

EX-CONVICT KILLED IN ATTEMPT AT EXTORTION

Sam Walter Shot by Detectives Who Lay in Wait at Filling Station at 1316-20 Elliot Avenue.

DAVID KLEGMAN, HIS AID, ARRESTED

Men Tried to Force Benjamin Weisberg, Owner of Oil Station, to Give Them $300.

Six city detectives lying in wait at 1316-20 Elliot avenue, where Benjamin Weisberg, professional filling station and a moving and storage business, today shot and killed one man and captured another when the two attempted to extort $300 from Weisberg.

The man killed was Samuel Walter, a former garment dealer, released last Nov. 24 from Leavenworth Penitentiary, where he served a two-year sentence for possession of merchandise stolen from interstate shipments. He had stored the goods with Weisberg and had accused Weisberg of giving information against him.

Weisberg called detectives.

His arrangement for the detectives to hide at his place was made by Weisberg early this morning when he appeared at Police Headquarters. He related that he was stopped on Olive street, between Eleventh and Twelfth boulevards, yesterday afternoon, by Walter and Klegman. He said the men marched him into an alley south of Olive street and took from him a revolver which he carried, as a deputy under Constable Byrne.

Walter accused him of being responsible for Weisberg's imprisonment and threatened to kill him. Weisberg denied the accusation and begged that his life be spared for the sake of his five children. He then demanded $300 "to live on" and Weisberg said he would have the money at his filling station at 10 o'clock this morning.

Walter and Klegman drove up to the Elliot avenue place at 9:15 a. m. Walter entered the filling station office and sat down near Weisberg. Klegman stood at the door. Unknown to the two visitors, Detective-Sergeants Grubbe, Shannon and Gerlach and Detective Hunt were concealed in a rear room, and Detective-Sergeant Miller and Detective Pearson were outside, around a corner.

Walter fired a shot at Weisberg, who was unarmed. Weisberg grabbed the weapon and fired it twice. The detectives came out from the back room and fired at Walter and Klegman, who were unarmed, and then fled.

Walter and Klegman were taken to the back room and fired at. Walter and Klegman were taken to the back room and fired at. Walter and Klegman were taken to the back room and fired at.

EPISCOPAL RECTORS VOTE
2 TO 1 AGAINST PROHIBITION

National Poll by Church Temperance Society Shows Majority Favor Modification of Volstead Act.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The results of a second poll by the Church Temperance Society, made public yesterday, show that clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church by a vote of nearly two to one consider prohibition a failure.

In the survey, about 5000 questionnaires were sent out to Episcopal rectors throughout the country. Approximately 2500 have replied and answers still are coming in.

The question: "Regardless of one's attitude toward the use of liquor, do you believe a prohibition law offers the best solution for the problem of intemperance?" The Episcopal rectors voted "No." 1138, and "Yes" 624.

Favor Modifying Volstead Act. Another query: "Should the Volstead Act be modified?" "The disgust with this law was never so much in evidence as it is now, and it is not confined to any particular section of the country but is nation-wide."

"It is therefore deemed advisable that the nation begin to seriously consider seriously practical method of handling the situation once prohibition laws are abolished. This being a great problem in itself, the Church Temperance Society feels it should be delayed no longer."

The board of directors yesterday announced the Society had received an endorsement of $50,000 to carry on its work. The name of the donor was not disclosed.

1000-YEAR-OLD
EMERALDS OFFERED
FOR SALE IN U. S.

Collection Valued at $1,000,000 Brought to This Country From India

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The relatives of the late Nawab Obaidullah Khan Bahadur of Bhopal, East India, are selling the family emeralds. U. P. Masters of M. Dailbas & Sons, India merchants, arrived from India three weeks ago with the collection he values at $1,000,000, safely tucked away in a trunk.

And the customs officials let Masters off without paying any duty, for the emeralds are 1500 years old.

The collection of five pieces, according to Masters, has a venerable history. The Prince purchased them from a Chinese royal family which had kept them since the days when an ancestral Mandarin first added them to his private stock.

The largest piece, a seven-inch model of a Chinese flapper of the late 900's, weighs 2500 carats and has a value in modern currency of $500,000.

In the collection is a 40-carat gem, which Masters says was originally part of the headgear of a Chinese god, who lost his headlight to a collector about 700 years ago. The setting dates back to the sixteenth century.

FORMER POLICEMAN FIRED
$1300 FOR RESISTING ARREST

Herman E. Gerdes Accused on Beating Divorced Wife and Another Woman.

Herman E. Gerdes, a former policeman, was fined $1300 on two charges of peace disturbance and one of resisting arrest in Police Court today.

Mrs. Emma Gerdes, his former wife, who divorced Gerdes a year ago, testified Gerdes followed her to her rooms at 4132 Walsh street yesterday, and after she refused to return to him, choked her. He also choked and beat Mrs. Florence Mastie, with whom Mrs. Gerdes makes her home, it was testified.

A policeman, who was called, testified Gerdes resisted, and that he had to subdue him before he could arrest him.

Gerdes, who now is a house painter, lives at 1208 Cherokee street.

INDIANAPOLIS CITY COUNCIL
MEETS TO ELECT NEW MAYOR

Special Session Called to Fill Vacancy Created by Death of John L. Duval.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 27.—Members of the Indianapolis City Council were called to meet in special session today at 3 p. m. for the announced purpose of "filling the vacancy" which now exists in the office of Mayor of Indianapolis by reason of the death of John L. Duval and the resignation of Claude F. Johnson to act as Mayor pro tempore.

condemn the Eighteenth Amendment, the poll showed. "Should the Eighteenth Amendment be replaced?" brought in "Yes" 825 times as against 733 times "No."

And 808 rectors agreed to "co-operate with the Church Temperance Society in a campaign for more practical legislation in the interest of temperance and morality," while 455 would not so commit themselves.

Prohibition Called a Fallacy. Commenting upon the survey, the publicity committee of the society, of which the Rev. Charles A. Livingston is chairman, expressed itself as feeling that the progress against prohibition is very satisfactory.

"When prohibition has been given time to demonstrate what a fallacy it really is, its elimination will be as easy as well as lasting," said the committee in a statement.

The disgust with this law was never so much in evidence as it is now, and it is not confined to any particular section of the country but is nation-wide.

BODIES OF 2 GIRLS
FOUND IN TRUNKS
AT NEW ORLEANS

Occupants of House Where Dismembered Murder Victims Were Hidden Deny Knowledge.

By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27.—The bodies of two young women were found dismembered in two trunks in a residence here late today. Police said they had been murdered.

The bodies were in separate trunks and were jammed face downward. One of the trunks was in a front room and the other in a rear room on the second floor of the house at 714 Ursuline street. Discovery of the bodies was made by a Tinsmith man, who called to collect money.

Police reported, after a brief investigation, that persons living in the house denied knowledge of the bodies.

The women apparently were young. In one case the arms and legs had been severed from the torso and in the other the legs had been severed. The bodies were practically nude. Superintendent of Police Healy took personal charge of the case in an effort to discover their identity and the cause of the crime.

Search for Henry Moly and his brother, said to be named Joseph, was ordered as police were informed they had come here from New Iberia, La., several weeks ago and police said they wanted to know if the women were their wives.

The women's heads had been severed and identification was difficult. A sugar cane knife rested on one of the bodies.

Five children in the two rooms were said to be those of Henry Moly and his brother. The house is in the old French quarter.

ROUND LAKE IN FOREST PARK TO BE ABANDONED FOR SEWER

Picturesque Fountain Is in Path of Projected River des Peres Drainage.

Round Lake in Forest Park, where a fountain sends up picturesque sprays of water, is in the path of the projected River des Peres drainage and must be abandoned to permit the giant sewer run under it. The lake is opposite Sylvan Lake near the Lindell boulevard entrance to the park.

The Water Department, which planned last summer to dump the fountain and install a pumping system to save water, has decided to leave the fountain intact until the sewer project is completed. In full operation the system will drain approximately 1,000,000 gallons of water a day at a cost to the city of $50.

MOTHER AND TWIN GIRLS LEAP FROM BURNING HOME.

Mrs. Nan Burkart Suffers Fracture of Right Arm in Fall From Rope of Sheets Fleeing From Bedroom.

DAUGHTERS REACH GROUND UNINJURED

Neighbors See Louise and Henrietta, 5 Years Old, Jump From Window — $30,000 Loss.

Trapped in a second-floor bedroom with her 5-year-old twin daughters by a fire in her $30,000 home in Oakland, St. Louis County, early today, Mrs. Nan Burkart attempted to let herself to the ground for help by sliding down a rope of knotted bed sheets, but lost her grip and fell, fracturing her right arm.

A few minutes later the twins, driven to a window by flames and smoke, leaped from the second floor and alighted on the ground, unhurt. The house, at 7 Schultz road, was destroyed.

Mrs. Burkart was taken to Bethesda-Dilworth Memorial Hospital, where she said she was awakened by smoke at 1:30 a. m. Her husband, Harry J. Burkart, vice president of the F. Burkart Manufacturing Co., had gone to Memphis on a business trip. Her first thought was to get the twins, Louise and Henrietta, from the house.

After she had roused them from their bed in the same room, she opened the bedroom door and was driven back by smoke and flames. With the escape cut off, she knotted sheets together, hoping to be able to awaken neighbors and obtain a ladder with which to get the children to safety.

Half way down the improvised rope, however, Mrs. Burkart lost her hold. Her screams attracted neighbors, but when the first of them arrived the little girls were on the window sill. A moment later they jumped.

Meanwhile the Kirkwood fire department was summoned, although the residence was outside the city limits. Chemicals proved ineffectual and there was no water supply at hand. The house was a two-and-a-half story frame structure of 10 rooms.

When Burkart arrived this morning at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis a telegram was awaiting him, advising of his family's experience. He started back immediately.

NEW AIRPLANE MOTOR TESTS
NEARLY ONE H. P. PER POUND

Said to Develop Power Without Propeller, Driving Itself Like a Rocket.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27.—The success of tests of a new internal combustion airplane and marine motor, utilizing a new principle, is announced by Harry N. Atwood of Monson, Mass. It is said to develop power without the use of a propeller, by exhausting exploding gases into the atmosphere or water, thus driving itself much as a rocket does.

Atwood says that his first model, made and tested in Philadelphia, weighed 4.8 pounds and developed 3.8 horse power. Larger engines, he says, will reduce the ratio to less than one pound per horse power, less than one-half of existing standard airplane motors. The new engine is shaped like a bottle and all of its mechanism is inside.

The engine will solve the problem of a light compact motor for multi-engine planes, Atwood believes.

FALL'S SON-IN-LAW REFUSES TO TELL HOW HE GOT $230,500NEU TESTIFIES HE SAW AGREEMENT
ON DRIVERS' FUND

Paper He Examined Smaller Than Document Made Public, Alderman Declares at Investigation.

TURNED JOB OVER TO VERNE LACY, HE SAYS

Uttendorfer, Recalled, Says Neu Was Retained and Was to Have Received Fee of $700.

Search for a second escrow agreement, which, a witness says, bears Alderman Waldman's signature, unlike one which was obtained by the Circuit Attorney in the service car inquiry was continued today by a special aldermanic investigating committee, on the trail of a $1200 slush fund. The committee also is inquiring into a charge that Alderman Neu sought a "split" in the fund.

Suorn testimony that a second agreement existed was given the committee yesterday afternoon by the first witness, Andrew Uttendorfer, 4155 Walsh street, member of the Green Cross Association, which raised a fund to obtain a service car regulatory ordinance, and chairman of its successor, the St. Louis Service Car Drivers' Association. Uttendorfer was recalled as a witness when the inquiry was resumed today.

He declared that Waldman, Mort J. Rosenblatt, who is Waldman's son-in-law, and H. G. Cohen, an attorney, had signed the second agreement, which, he said, provided for deposit of $605 in the National City Bank "to get certain legislation."

Asked if the alleged document specified who was to receive the money, Uttendorfer replied: "It just had the three signatures."

Alleged Signers Deny Story. Waldman, Rosenblatt and Cohen have denied the story. Alderman Siders, who they signed or knew of such an agreement. The investigating committee obtained from the National City Bank the copy of an escrow agreement which had been made public last Monday and which bore only the names of Rosenblatt and George Keller and Victor L. Crouch, members of the old Green Cross Association, with Cohen's signature as attorney public. This agreement, dated May 5, provided for payment of $1200 to Rosenblatt for performing "certain services in obtaining certain legislation relative to service car drivers."

Uttendorfer said emphatically this was not the paper he referred to.

"Trying to Frame Us." On his second appearance on the stand, Uttendorfer told the committee that on his way home last night after the hearing he was crowded to the curb by several men in another automobile, who forced him and then drove away.

He said that after the incident he "turned around and went back and found six service car drivers in conference with Rosenblatt." He concluded his remarks with the observation, "That shows that they are trying to frame us, and I'd like an investigation."

The remark about "framing" was stricken from the record, after an objection to the use of the word, but he was not questioned as to where the conference between Rosenblatt and the six drivers was taking place, nor what significance it might have.

Cross-examination then continued along the same lines as those followed yesterday.

Concerning the relations of Alderman Neu with the St. Louis Service Car Drivers' Association, Uttendorfer testified today that Neu was retained as an attorney to draw up the "general order," constitution and by-laws of the organization and that his fee was to be $700. He said, however, that Neu turned the attorney over to Verne Lacy, another driver.

"You knew when you retained Neu that there was a service car bill in the Board of Aldermen to which he objected, didn't you?" he was asked. Uttendorfer replied first that he could not recall the date of Neu's retention as an attorney, but admitted later that it was while the bill was pending. Neu has told reporters he was MORT ROSENBLATT (right) son-in-law of Alderman Waldman, who contracted to have an ordinance passed for $1200, and H. G. Cohen, his attorney, to whom he says he was to have paid the sum for legitimate legal services.

ATTACK ON TAX COLLECTORS
LED TO UPRISING OF NATIVES

Report from Malaita Island, Where Massacre Occurred, Tells of Fighting Oct. 4.

By the Associated Press. SUVA, Fiji, Oct. 27.—A detailed report, received here declares the recent native uprising and massacre of whites in Malaita Island of the Solomon group, a British colony in the Southwestern Pacific, occurred while officials were collecting the annual native head tax.

Oct. 4 two officers and a group of constables were collecting the tax in the village of Sinaga on the northeast coast of Malaita Island, the report said. Natives from the hill tribes had assembled in the village. While Officer Bell was examining a tax receipt, a native killed him by a blow from a rifle barrel. At the same time the other officer was attacked by three natives with knives. He was killed despite a gallant fight of members of the crew of the steamer Auk.

An attack on the Government party by 200 to 300 natives armed with axes, knives and bows and arrows then began.

SKIPPER AND 67 MISSING; 1160 SAVED IN WRECK

Survivors at Bahia Believe Captain Went Down With the Mafalda Off Brazilian Coast.

HEROISM OF CREW PREVENTED A PANIC

Boiler Explosion Rocked the Italian Emigrant Liner in Midst of Singing and Dancing.

By the Associated Press. BAHIA, Brazil, Oct. 27.—Belief that Capt. Simon Gull, commander of the Italian Steamship Principessa Mafalda, perished with his ship off the coast of Bahia was expressed by members of the ship crew who landed here today aboard the rescue ship Mosella.

The rescued men appeared much shaken by the sinking of their vessel, some of them weeping as they struggled in the water.

The crew told how women and children, struggling in the water and were drowned in the darkness. Four passengers rescued by the Mosella died from exhaustion after being taken aboard.

Some of the passengers of the Mosella were inclined to criticize those in command of the Mafalda, declaring that there was a two-hour delay in the lowering of the lifeboats, the boats being lowered only when the ship was sinking fast.

Capt. Privat of the Mosella expressed belief that it was not an exaggeration to say that there were 400 dead. Other survivors indicate fewer than 100 perished.

Capt. Privat told the Chief of Police and the Italian Consul here the following:

"The disaster was due to the loss of a propeller shaft which caused a permit a flow of water, causing an explosion of the boilers. The Principessa Mafalda's captain and radio operator stayed aboard the ship at their posts until their vessel went down. I do not know if Capt. Gull was drowned. I only know that he was giving orders a short time before the ship sank.

The women could not have been more horrible, especially for the screaming in the midst of the wind and darkness from women and children helpless in the ocean waves."

Boiler Explosion Sank Liner Eighty Miles Off Coast of Brazil.

By the Associated Press. RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 27.—Rescue ships sped toward this port today with hundreds who were rescued from the Italian liner Principessa Mafalda, which sank, after an explosion of a boiler, 80 miles off the coast of Brazil opposite Porto Seguro, about 600 miles north of here.

Indications were the rescue ships—the first is due here at midnight tonight—picked up all but 68 of the 998 passengers and a crew of 240.

Were Singing and Dancing. Supper had been served and there was singing and dancing when suddenly the ship came to a brusque halt. The Mafalda's radio frantically called S. O. S. The nearest ships responded to the call and relayed it to others. The radio operator in a later message said that a fatal accident had occurred aboard the Mafalda because of dryness in the boiler plates.

Dancing and rejoicing among the passengers turned to consternation and trembling. The coolness of the ship's officers prevented a panic. The orchestra began playing the Italian national anthem with a more serious purpose in mind, the quieting of the fears of the terror-stricken passengers.

Captain Simon Gull, a veteran of the sea, stood on the bridge, outwardly undisturbed, shouting his orders. The officers and crew directed the passengers to the life boat stations and assisted them in donning life preservers.

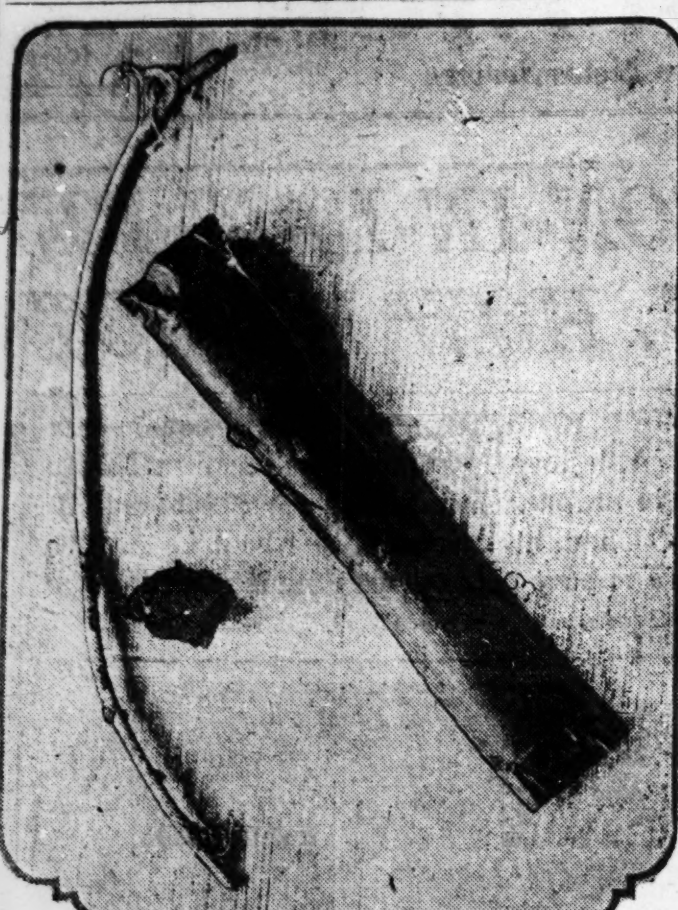

Soon heartrending news came from the radio operator. The French steamer Formosa had responded to the S. O. S. Soon other ships were responding. Cheers rose from the deck as despair turned to hope.

About 8 o'clock, less than an hour after the S. O. S. call had been picked up, the Formosa came in sight. It was already dark, but the night was clear, life boats dotted the surface of the ocean about the sinking liner.

Soon the Dutch steamer Alhena, the British Empire Star and the French Mosella appeared on the scene. Later the Italian steamship Rosetti and others approached.

There was another explosion in the liner's boilers and the ship began to sink rapidly. The commander of the Formosa signaled the other ships that he would attempt to maneuver close to the Mafalda and pick up those on board before the liner sank. He rescued 319 persons. His daring exploit was hailed by survivors as one of the great deeds in the annals of the sea. The darkness of the night made his task difficult.

Neu Says He Saw Contract For Service Car Fund

Neu took the stand after Utendorfer's cross-examination was completed. He related that several days before the Green Cross organization broke up, which was on June 24, Utendorfer and another man, not known to him, came to his office and asked him to "look over an agreement."

The Alderman recalled that the agreement provided "certain legislation was to be passed for a certain organization in consideration of $1200," but beyond that point his memory appeared faulty. He read the document, he said, and advised the men that it was "against public policy."

It appeared, however, that while he examined the document closely enough to recall that it bore no notarial seal and that its nature made it a void contract, his scrutiny did not serve to cement in his mind the names of the signers. Asked whether the signature of Waldman, Rosenblatt or Cohen were on the paper, he said he "couldn't say," meaning, apparently, that he could not remember.

Utendorfer had previously said that there was a second agreement in existence, and Neu recalled that the paper he examined was smaller than the document already made public.

Neu declared he got either $100 or $108 for drawing up the by-laws for the new organization before he gave up the job in favor of Lacy, and observed that "a big law firm would charge $1000 for the work" by way of showing that his fee was not high.

Asked whether he had said, "Someone is going to get $1200 to get this bill passed," meaning the service car measure, he said he "might have said it."

Demands of members to learn the contents of the proposed bill were met with refusal by Keller, the witness said. Victor Crouch showed Utendorfer the alleged Waldman agreement, according to Utendorfer, and they took it to Alderman Neu, an attorney, who advised them to "can" it and get the money back from the bank. In denying that the Rosenblatt agreement shown him by the committee was the one referred to, Utendorfer testified the purported "Waldman agreement" mentioned $605, bore no notarial seal and was introduced and differed in appearance from the Rosenblatt paper.

"Victor Crouch told me there was less than $605 left in the fund," Utendorfer testified, "and Keller gave Crouch a beating on account of this shortage. The two other members collected $70, to make up the shortage. We drew the $200 left out of the bank and Victor Crouch and Keller and I paid the members back. Crouch said Harry Abrams (a Green Cross officer) for, and they took it to the bank. The members who didn't like the ordinance after it was introduced and didn't see why they had to pay $1200 for it."

"It was given out by K-ller that Waldman was to get some of the money. The bank officers said consent of the signers to the agreement would be necessary to get the rest of the money out. I saw Waldman, Rosenblatt, Keller and Crouch at the bank."

Witness Identifies Waldman. Utendorfer identified Waldman in the committee room as the man he saw at the National City Bank. "Keller, according to the witness, had averred he would be the only one in the city to say who could drive a service car, and had said Waldman was 'this Alderman.'"

As to the alleged second agreement about which Utendorfer told yesterday, Neu agreed with the testimony that he advised Utendorfer to "can" the document. He asserted, however, that he could not remember whether or not the paper bore Waldman's signature.

DEPUTY MARSHAL REFUSES TO OBEY ROSECAN'S ORDER

Judge Sentences Man for Contempt of Court, but He Walks Away.

A controversy between Police Judge Rosecan and the City Marshal's office today saved Hugo Katz, a printer, from being sent to the workhouse for 10 days for contempt of court. Judge Rosecan read out the sentence, but a Deputy Marshal refused to take Katz into custody, and Katz walked out of court.

Katz was brought into court, along with Charles Hufnagel, his next-door neighbor at 719 Minnesota avenue, as the result of an argument. Tuck pointers are replacing Hufnagel's house and their scaffolding hangs over part of Katz's property. Katz tried to tear down the scaffolding. The arrest of both on disturbance of the peace charges resulted.

Because Judge Rosecan would not hear a charge of trespass against Hufnagel, based on the overhanging scaffolding, Katz charged the judge with having gotten the importance of constitutional rights. Judge Rosecan thereupon sentenced Katz to the workhouse for 10 days for contempt of court, ordering his clerk to take out a commitment.

City Marshal Duffy said: "Judge Rosecan had no right to sentence that man to the workhouse, even in a contempt of court case, without giving the man his constitutional right of a hearing. We cannot execute any order for commitment."

Katz's counsel pleaded for leniency, but when Judge Rosecan remained obdurate, advised Katz to remain in the workhouse, even if he was to be locked up. Katz walked back to the cell behind the courtroom and explained his predicament, but the City Marshal's office declined to touch him, and he left.

RISKS LIFE TO AVERT BOMBING OF HOUSE

Watchman Cuts Burning Fuse—Third Attempt to Wreck A. L. Woos' Home.

A stick of dynamite with burning fuse was thrown from an automobile last night at the $40,000 home of Albert L. Woos, building contractor, at 840 Delmar boulevard, University City, but a wide-awake watchman cut off the fuse and prevented an explosion.

The watchman, who risked his life to save his employer's property, was James Stinson, 22 years old, who lives near Kirkwood.

Woos has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the vandals who three times have attempted to wreck his new home. The porch was burned by a torch or explosive, in the first attempt. A bomb was set off in the house last Friday night, causing $3000 damage. Because of the damage, Woos was unable to move his family into the house, and only the watchman was there last night.

Three times last night, Stinson noticed a large touring car, which he thinks was a Packard, pass in front of the house. There were two men in the car, and on the third trip, Stinson heard one say to the other: "Get ready," after which the dynamite was hurled through the air, landing on the northeast corner of the house.

Stinson jumped from his chair, opened his knife and cut off the burning end of the fuse, which was a foot long. It burned at the rate of a foot a minute. There was eight inches remaining, when the end had been cut off, indicating speedy action on the part of Stinson. The dynamite itself was 14 inches long and 1 1/2 inches thick, with a percussion cap set in one end of the stick.

Woos told police 80 per cent of the work on the house was performed by union men, but the union had protested against his use of old, nonunion employees for the work.

Woods said the bombing of his home would not intimidate him and announced he would move into the new house with his family during the afternoon. He said that, with his family occupying the place, he does not believe the house will be bombed any more.

TWO CASES OF WINE SEIZED IN ROOM OF M. U. STUDENT

C. C. Barlow, Senior From Kentucky, Arrested After Raid by Prosecutor and Sheriff.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 27.—C. C. Barlow of Barlow, Ky., a senior in the College of Agriculture at the State University, was arrested last night after a raid on his room by the prosecuting attorney George S. Starrett and Sheriff Roy Greer.

Starrett said he probably would charge the student with possessing liquor. Two cases of wine were found in Barlow's room. Information was furnished to Starrett by Columbia policemen that a wine salesman from out of town was here last week soliciting orders for shipments of wine and other liquors into Columbia. He particularly solicited among university students and some of the "thier citizens of Columbia."

Starrett said he was desirous of getting the man who "comes here and inveigles these boys into buying his goods." St. Louis police were asked to look for the salesman.

Program Rebroadcast 10,000 Miles. By the Associated Press. SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Radio fans, who twirled their dials to the setting of WGY, General Electric broadcasting station here, this morning heard the rebroadcast of a program originating in Sydney, Australia, approximately 10,000 miles distant.

Katz's counsel pleaded for leniency, but when Judge Rosecan remained obdurate, advised Katz to remain in the workhouse, even if he was to be locked up. Katz walked back to the cell behind the courtroom and explained his predicament, but the City Marshal's office declined to touch him, and he left.

DIVORCE GRANTED BUDLONG

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 27.—Absolute divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty was granted Milton J. Budlong here yesterday by Judge Jessie Margaret Budlong by Judge Carpenter following a hearing in which Mrs. Budlong appeared as her own attorney. Budlong's custody of the minor children is upheld and Mrs. Budlong may see them only at such time and under such conditions as he shall dictate.

Judge Carpenter's decree refers frequently to Budlong as a kind and generous husband and scathingly denounces Mrs. Budlong. During the hearing the judge told Mrs. Budlong he considered her an ungrateful persecutor of her husband.

Fall's Son-in-Law Hides Origin of $230,500

ers, N. M., in the latter part of 1921," was the answer. This was during Stinson's New Year's visit at which the Government claims the conspiracy was hatched.

Over repeated refusals to answer, which the Court overbore, Everhart was compelled to make the significant admissions that he went to New York (where the bonds were purchased by the Continental) in May, 1922; visited Fall in Washington, and returned to Pueblo, May 23, where he handed the $20,000 of bonds to Cashier L. R. Rule of a Pueblo bank and sold the other $140,500 to the M. D. Thatcher Estates Co. It was a graphic sequence of events.

Eventually Prosecutor Roberts reached his climax and asked this question: "Mr. Everhart, where did you get the bonds which you produced in Pueblo on May 29?"

The witness instantly reiterated his refusal to answer and turned to the bench almost in agony. Roberts relentlessly demanded an answer. If he could, he was going to force Everhart to tell Justice Stinson the Government's story. Stinson decided to hear arguments and dismissed the jury for the day. Did All but Accuse Client.

Douglas, protesting Everhart's right to keep silent, did everything but accuse his client of taking part in the conspiracy. In his anxiety over Everhart's perilous position, he almost accused him of being an accessory.

Roberts, ironically enough, was arguing that Everhart's statement that he had no connection with the case, showed that he could not have been guilty, and therefore could not incriminate himself. Upon the question of forcing Everhart to answer the crucial question of where he got the bonds, he had a sharp pocket knife on his person, in addition to a revolver and flashlight.

Stinson jumped from his chair, opened his knife and cut off the burning end of the fuse, which was a foot long. It burned at the rate of a foot a minute. There was eight inches remaining, when the end had been cut off, indicating speedy action on the part of Stinson. lent, Stinson's attorneys blandly disclaiming all knowledge of or connection with this transaction. Fall's lawyers protested that Fall could not be held for what his son-in-law said or did. Justice Stinson smiled wryly and waved the matter to proceed, which he did, with numerous references to his records and papers. Fall again expostulated audibly to his counsel for their failure to make objections which he wanted made.

Fall Pays Off His Debts. Fall and his son-in-law were deeply in debt. The M. D. Thatcher Estates Co. had loaned Fall $15,000, Everhart $23,000 and their Tres Ritos Co. $10,000—a total of $48,000—and as security for these loans it held 11 of that company's stock.

These debts were paid off with the proceeds of still other Liberty bonds produced by Everhart. In addition, the first $20,000, he produced another $140,000.

These he sold to the Thatcher Company at par and accrued interest. The Thatcher Company took out of the purchase price the $20,000 due it, and the remainder of the money was distributed to Fall, Everhart and the Tres Ritos Company.

All of these bonds have since been traced back to the Continental Trading Company Ltd. This corporation had accumulated a profit of $8,000,000 by purchasing 33,000,000 barrels of oil from A. E. Humphreys and selling it to companies in which Stinson was interested. Stinson was one of those who guaranteed that the Continental would perform its contract but he denies that he was interested in it. The prosecution contends that the Continental was organized as a convenient way of "smuggling" a huge bribery fund. The remainder of its funds never have been traced.

Harry M. Blackmer, who was chairman of the board of the Mid-west Refining Co., a subsidiary of the Standard Oil of Indiana, and James E. O'Neill, president of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., were among those present when the deal with Humphreys was made. Both fled to Europe to avoid testifying in this case. Others present were Stinson and R. W. Stewart, now chairman of the board of the Standard of Indiana. Stewart has been subpoenaed to testify in this trial. He denies having had any interest in the Continental.

Rule became noticeably reluctant as a witness for Roberts and became noticeably eager as a witness for the defense on cross-examination. In the latter role, he testified that Fall had not rented the deposit box held in his name and had not authorized its rental. Rule had taken it upon himself to rent it for Fall.

With this curious statement, the defense excused Rule, but Justice Stinson was not satisfied. He called Rule back to the chair and began a cross-examination of his own. Rule presently disclosed that not only was Everhart a director in Rule's bank but also that Rule was vice president of the Tres Ritos Company, and with Fall and Everhart one of its three directors.

When Justice Stinson asked him to explain his various actions in connection with the depositing and withdrawing of money and bonds, he said he could only have done so at Everhart's direction. Everhart sat in the rear of the room, his hand cupped behind his ear, listening intently. In the civil trial at Cheyenne, he refused to testify, pleading self-incrimination.

Everhart was called to the stand when Booth left it. He was nervous and under obvious strain. He said he lived in Pueblo, and that he was married to Caroline Fall, who died in 1918. He was asked to what extent he was interested with Fall in the Tres Ritos Co. He replied haltingly, turning to the bench: "I declined to answer that question—I feel that it would incriminate me."

Justice Stinson's Ruling on Admission of Testimony. After reserving his ruling for six days, Justice Stinson today held that sworn testimony given by Stinson and Fall four years ago before the Walsh Committee investigating Oil Leases, cannot be used against them in the present trial. The ruling was made under a statute which provides that the testimony of a witness before a Congressional committee cannot subsequently be used against him in a criminal prosecution.

The Government, in offering testimony given by Stinson in October and December, 1923, argued that, in failing to claim his immunity under the statute at that time, he had waived it.

Opposing counsel had agreed to stipulate certain facts, to-wit: That Stinson appeared before the Committee Oct. 29 and again on Dec. 4, both times in response to notices, not subpoenaed, that he was not sworn the first time, but was sworn the second time.

Dismissing the jury, Justice Stinson launched into a prolonged discussion, in which he recited the history of the statute and the history of cases arising under the rule against compulsory self-incrimination. While the committee investigation was a legislative, not a judicial proceeding, he said, the committee had the power to call witnesses, swear them and punish them for failure to appear. The latter fact is very well known to Stinson, who is under a four-months jail sentence for refusing to testify upon a later occasion before the committee.

Because Stinson was not sworn on Oct. 29, his testimony in that instance was not legal testimony, and therefore not subject to the immunity conferred by the act, Justice said, therefore it was admissible as evidence in this trial. (The statement given the Senate by Stinson on Oct. 29, 1923, and that of Dec. 4, 1923, both concerned Stinson's Christmas visit to Fall at Three Rivers, N. M., and in both of which he said he talked to Fall about the Teapot Dome lease.)

Former Governor Testifies. Upon the conclusion of the ruling, the jury was recalled and former Gov. E. B. Brooks of Wyoming, president of the Rocky Mountain Oil & Gas Producers' Association, took the stand and told of wiring a protest to the Interior Department April 14, against the rumored leasing of Teapot Dome. In response to it, he said, Assistant Secretary Finney replied that Fall was out of town. Stinson's lease was vouchsafed, although the lease was then a week old.

Counsel read into the record the testimony given in the civil case at Cheyenne, Wyo., by J. G. Darden, who had one of the oil "legs and dogs" claims against Teapot Dome. He told of going to Fall a month or two before the lease was signed, and insisting that it be "rightly" be safeguarded.

Although, Darden said, the long before the lease was signed, Fall told Darden that the lease would "take care of him" he had any claim. Later on he sent the Marines to evict Darden's drilling outfit from the Dome. It happened that Darden was a friend of President Harding and had contributed to his campaign fund, and subsequently the President presented to his Secretary of the Interior a check for the amount of $10,000, which Darden had contributed to the campaign fund.

Fall replied, according to the testimony: "Mr. President, my friend is a low down scoundrel, which Mr. Harding rejoined, "I guess he was all the time." He sent in his check, too, but we rejected it."

Life actually prolonged.

By keeping the system cleansed of poisons

MEN of science are constantly working on a problem vital to the human race—longevity! They know that the secret of life is to keep the system cleansed of poisons due to wrong habits of living and eating and to delay the process of elimination. They find everybody in danger of this condition—everybody suffering from it at times.

Many of our foremost scientists recommend the use of Nujol as a harmless corrective and preventive. For Nujol does both things for you. It has the peculiar quality of not being absorbed by the system at all. But Nujol does absorb body poisons. Carries them away right out of the system. Causes internal difficulties. If taken faithfully Nujol makes impossible delayed elimination and the absorption of poisons into the blood. Thus it prevents the accumulation of poisons which would otherwise build up in the system. You will benefit if you learn to use Nujol whenever you feel the need of it. Nujol is so safe that babies, old people, and sick people can take it too. Ask your doctor about it. He will tell you it's not habit-forming, contains no drugs or medicine. Prescribed by the Chamberlain Medicine Dispensary.

You can get Nujol at any drug store. The genuine product comes in the famous Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay—get a bottle at once.

CHAPTER OF KU KLUX KLAN

AT TUSCALOOSA, ALA., QUITS
Action Due to Recent Outrages Disclosed by Inquiry Conducted by Attorney-General.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 27.—
Tuscaloosa Klan No. 14 of the Alabama realm of the Ku Klux Klan, has "adjourned sine die," Bruce Shelton of Tuscaloosa, announced today.

The disbanding of the local unit came after a meeting by 150 klansmen Tuesday night, Shelton said,
and followed talks by members who deplored recent outrages laid at the door of the organization and praised the actions of Attorney-General McCall of Alabama in resigning from the Klan. All robes and other regalia have been returned to the State headquarters of the organization.

W. F. BROWN TO U. S. POST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Walter F. Brown of Toledo, O., was appointed by President Coolidge today to be Assistant Secretary of Commerce, succeeding J. Walter
Drake, who has resigned.

Drowned in Railroad Ashpit

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Oct. 27.—
John W. Childs, 32 years old, a machinist's helper at the Chicago & Illinois Midland Railroad shops here was drowned last night in 18 feet of water standing in an ash-pit. His body was found within an hour after fellow workers first missed him.

ant Secretary Finney replied that Fall was out of town. No information was vouchsafed, although the lease was then a week old.

Counsel read into the record the testimony given in the civil case at Cheyenne, Wyo., by J. G. Darden, who had one of the old "cata and dogs" claims against Teapot Dome. He told of going to Fall a month or two before the lease was signed and insinuating that his
"rights" be safeguarded.

Although, Dardeen said, this was long before the lease was formally awarded, Fall told Dardeen that Sinclair would "take care of him" if he had any claim. Later on Fall sent the Marines to evict Dardeen's drilling outfit from the Dome. It happened that Dardeen was a friend of President Harding and had contributed to his campaign fund, consequently the President protested to his Secretary of the Interior
"against this rough treatment of his friend."

Fall replied, according to other testimony: "Mr. President, your friend is a low down scoundrel," to which Mr. Harding rejoined, "I guess he was all of that when he sent in his check, too, but we accepted it."

NEW TREATMENT
PRESERVING SIGHT OF TARKINGTON

Novelist Has Lost Use of Right Eye but Wife Hopes Left Has Been Saved for Many Years.

CONDITION HELPED
BY SERUM THERAPY

He Continues at Work—
Has Written Several Essays This Fall and Is Correcting New Book.

By the Associated Press.

NEWBUNKPORT, Me., Oct. 27.—
By means of a new treatment,
which has been very successful,
Booth Tarkington, the novelist, may have preserved for many years the sight of his left eye.
Mrs. Tarkington said today with reference to reports that he was threatened with blindness. He virtually lost the sight of his right eye two years ago.

Mrs. Tarkington, who said her husband wished her to speak for him, explained that he first had trouble with his eyes about 10 years ago. He has had little use of the right eye the past two years.
Dr. John Ray Newcomb of Indianapolis, eye specialist, has been attempting a new "serum treat-

This never has been tried before, Mrs. Tarkington said, but has been very successful. The doctor has treated his eyes about 10 times and does not think he will ever lose his sight entirely in that eye.
I have hopes that eventually the sight of the right eye will be restored by this treatment."

Mrs. Tarkington said her husband had been working right along and was able to do his work without assistance. He has written a number of essays this fall, and now is correcting proofs on his new novel, "Claire Ambler."

"There has been no furious rush of work that he might complete before he was blind," she said, "but he has been enjoying the beautiful fall weather, and his general health is as good if not better than it has been for a number of years."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Booth Tarkington's difficulties with his sight date back to college days when at Princeton he formed the habit of writing every night until dawn, using up one lead pencil after another. Despite the strain of this practice he has steadily refused to use a typewriter or dictator.

Like James Joyce in his Paris Tarkington wrote the more intensely as his vision became more impaired.

Tarkington has disclosed his method of work in a letter to a friend: "I live in a bathrobe. . .
I have a pencil machine and sharpen about three dozen pencils every night; write on a draftsman's drawing board, tilted, a card table at my elbow." He describes the typewriter as "a mystery to me."

Tarkington has won almost all the public honors possible to a man of letters, including the Pulitzer prize on two different occasions in 1919 for "The Magnificent Ambersons" and in 1922 for
"Alice Adams."

His novels include the famous
"House of Beaulieu," "The Turban from Indiana," "The Tur-
ban from Indiana," "The Turban from Indiana," and "Gentle Julia." He immortalized the American boy in the "Penrod" and "Swatnow" collections of short stories. Numbered among his plays are "Claudine," "The Middle-aged Woman," "The Middle-aged Man,"

WHITE SAYS CURTIS IS 'SENATE CHOICE'

Editor Declares Kansan Is Backed by Group That Nominated Hughes and Harding.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Herald-Tribune quotes William Allen White, Emporia newspaper editor, as saying that Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, will be recognized as the choice of the United States Senate, which nominated Harding; chose Hughes over Roosevelt in 1916, and in 1912 favored Taft.

"Senator Curtis is firmly entrenched in the Senate," White continued, "and no man since Senator Penrose has had the power there that Curtis has as the official Republican leader of the Senate."

Speaking last night at the Young Republican Club, White said that Gov. Smith of New York, as a presidential candidate, would not carry a State west of the Allegheny Mountains. Even in the so-called "solid Democratic South."

He said, the sentiment in favor of Gov. Smith as the Democratic standard bearer is largely from leaders who do not necessarily control the voting masses.

White said he toured the South last spring and it is his judgment that what favorable reaction there has been for Smith did not come from the mass of voters.

Rebe Daniels III at Her Home.
By the Associated Press.
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 27.—Rebe Daniels was confined to her bed today suffering from what her physician said was an attack of influenza. Her physician said her condition was not serious.

Magic Comfort in the World's EASIEST EASY CHAIR

At first glance a Royal Easy Chair appears no different than any other fine chair—just a big, roomy inviting easy chair with all you could desire in beauty of line, style and finish. But sit in a Royal at your dealer's and instantly you sense the difference. Then you will know why the Royal is the world's easiest easy chair.

Here is the chair you need in your library, den or private office. It is the 110 Special. You can recline as far or as little as you like in this big leather chair—there is no fixed number of reclining positions. When you've finished your dose just pull the ring again—the back follows you up.

Ask to see this attractive chair—No. 818—at your dealer's. You can stretch out full length in it by merely pulling out the hidden leg-rest. When you're through dozing, the leg-rest may be pushed back out of sight—so well concealed that no one would ever know it was there.

This stylish Coxwell chair adds charm and distinction to your home. Like all Royals, this No. 61 Coxwell has reclining back and disappearing leg-rest. Royals come in a wide range of designs, coverings and prices—and they all possess the hidden comfort features. Have your dealer demonstrate a Royal to you and find out how much chair comfort you've been missing.

2 ITALIAN GANG LEADERS INDICTED IN LIQUOR INQUIRY

John and Vito Giannola of St. Louis and Four Others Named in Warrants at Quincy, Ill.

John and Vito Giannola, Italian clique leaders and dealers in corn sugar, have been indicted by the Federal grand jury at Quincy, Ill., on charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, and the "still and mash" sections of the internal revenue act in connection with the operations of moonshiners in Madison County.

Fugitive warrants for the arrest of the brothers and four other men, whose names are withheld, were received here today. John and Vito are named together in each of two indictments, in one of which their names are given with four others. The true bills were returned Tuesday after an exhaustive investigation of Madison County conditions as a result of which more than 110 persons were indicted.

The brothers became prominent in the investigation of Madison County conditions after John Giannola had been questioned in the murder of Constable Ohmer Hockett and his companion, John Balke, whose bodies were found in a grave on a deserted moonshining farm at Horseshoe Lake on Feb. 5, 1926. They had been shot to death presumably by the bootleggers who were operating there.

Investigation showed that the man who leased the farm had signed the name "John Giannola" to the lease. Later, a Dyer act warrant, charging interstate transportation of a stolen automobile, was issued against John Giannola on the strength of a stolen automobile which was found buried near the moonshine farm. Evidence tended to show that Giannola had sent one of his truck drivers to have the automobile pulled from the mud, but the case was not strong and the prosecution was dropped.

Sporadic investigations since the inquiry into the Hockett-Balke murders were dropped have developed that the Giannolas had an extensive sugar business in Madison County, storing their sugar in a warehouse in the heart of Madison. In one instance a truck driver employed by John Giannola told Federal agents of hauling alcohol from the East Side in his machine.

John Giannola lived on Marfitt avenue at the time of the Hockett-Balke murders and Vito lived in University City. They operated a grocery and meat market at 1126 North Seventh street.

35 WOMEN STRICKEN WITH PTOMAIN POISON

Guests at Party Become Ill After Eating Chicken Salad and Pimento Sandwiches.

Thirty-five of the 70 women who partook of chicken salad at an afternoon social given by the Eastern Evangelical Church of Edwardsville, yesterday afternoon, became ill last night from ptomaine poisoning. The salad, according to physicians, had been stored in a metal container.

Some of the women were ill before they left the home of Mrs. T. C. Hamlin, the hostess, at 12 St. Andrew's place. Others were stricken later. Telephone calls began to reach Edwardsville physicians about 6 o'clock. They continued until after midnight. Several of the cases are acute, but none is believed to be dangerous. Pimento sandwiches and coffee were served with the chicken salad.

ROY SCHOOLEY GIVEN 90 DAYS FOR VOLSTEAD ACT VIOLATION

Roy Schooley, lawyer, former St. Louis County politician and convicted bank robber, today was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $440 by Federal Judge Paris for violation of the Volstead act.

Schooley, at liberty on bond while the Supreme Court is considering his appeal from a 10-year penitentiary sentence for participation in the $25,526 robbery of the Citizens Bank of Festus, Mo., Sept. 25, 1926, pleaded guilty to sale and possession of liquor at his home at 1246 Sutter avenue, St. Louis County.

The case against him was made June 2 by V. M. Gamble, a Negro prohibition agent, who bought liquor from the Wellston saloon and on the strength of the purchase obtained a search warrant.

CLAYTON FOR SANE HALLOWEEN

Clayton merchants are seeking to discourage Halloween rowdiness this year with the aid of a community dance.

They plan to turn on all the lights in their establishments, fling wide the doors, and serve doughnuts and apple cider to youthful visitors. Meanwhile, in the Clayton Square, a band is to play. A space in the street has been cleared for dancing.

E. W. Reims lies in Baltimore.

Edmond W. Bunk, president of the Sylvester Realty Co., 2212 Longfellow place, died yesterday at a Baltimore hospital, following an operation according to word received here today. The body will arrive here today for burial. The family will return to the city this evening.

YOUR ST. LOUIS

How Well Do You Know It?

MONSANTO CHEMICAL WORKS

Few people realize that St. Louis is one of the world's leading chemical markets. MONSANTO CHEMICAL WORKS, established in 1901, has been largely responsible for the growth of the chemical industry in the Mississippi Valley. Under the guidance of its founder, Mr. John F. Queney, it has developed into one of the largest chemical companies in the United States, with assets approximating $10,000,000.

The St. Louis Plant of Monsanto Chemical Works is located at Second and Lafayette Avenues, covers about three city blocks and manufactures fine and medicinal chemicals, such as Aspirin, of which it is the largest independent producer in the world as well as synthetic flavors and condiments such as Vanillin and Oil of Wintergreen. Another Monsanto plant at the village of Monsanto, St. Clair county, Illinois, manufactures heavy chemicals such as sulphuric acid, muriatic acid, nitric acid, caustic soda and carboxylic acid as well as intermediates used in the dye industry. Both plants together occupy 56 acres and a fleet of more than 100 MONX tank cars is in daily service with consuming industries of the Mississippi Valley.

An associate company, The Grueser-Monsanto Chemical Works, Limited, is located in England, at Rutherford. There are branch offices at New York, Chicago, San Francisco and London. The name "Monsanto" is known in the chemical trade throughout the world—even in China and Japan Monsanto medicinal products are preferred.

Every day this space will be devoted to some one particular manufacturing plant or industry which is contributing to the dynamic growth of St. Louis.

75 MEN, 4 WOMEN CONVICTED IN 122 LIQUOR LAW CASES

Judge Faris Ends Fourth Day of Trials of Bootleggers—43 Charges Dismissed or Continued.

The fourth day of the parade of bootleggers through the courtroom of Federal Judge Faris ended today, with 122 cases having been called in this time. Of those against whom charges were heard, 75, four of them women, were fined or sent to jail. The remaining cases were dismissed or continued.

A total of $22,467 in fines has been assessed. Thirty defendants have been sent to jail, 12 of them, including a woman, because they were unable to pay their fines.

Woman Goes to Jail.
Four of those appearing today received jail sentences, and nine were fined.

Among those fined was Miss Annie Roberts, 22 Swan avenue, who will go to jail because she is unable to pay her fine of $500.

Another woman was Mrs. Jennie Viscuso, who had a small grocery at Theodore and Alcott avenues. She told Judge Faris she has six small children, her store is being sold to satisfy creditors and that she now is looking for a job. Judge Faris stayed her fine of $100 for selling liquor.

When Miss Roberts announced she would be unable to pay her fine, Judge Faris said the only reason he had not sentenced her to jail was because of the crowded condition of the county jails to which he can send those convicted. After 30 days, Miss Roberts may make a pauper's oath and be freed.

Jail Terms to Four Men.
Those receiving jail sentences today were: Tom Peoples, a Negro, 3933 Papin street, two months; George Reich and Life Richardson, the latter a Negro, both charged with transporting liquor, 30 days each; Melvin Williams, Flat River, two months.

Others fined were: Tom Pisoni, Leonard avenue and Morgan street, $425; William Bush, 5235 Gravois, $240; William Smith, of Fenton, Mo., $440; Charles Seibert, proprietor of a roadhouse on Gravois road, $475; George Stofft, Fourth and St. Charles streets, $475; Peter Titoni, Eighteenth and Market streets, $400; Fred Wulschlager, 408 North Tenth, $440, and Mike Cwick, a professional bondsman, $440.

TAXICAB COMPANY SUED BY CREDITORS OF FIRM IT BOUGHT

Holder of Brown Cab Co. Judgments for $17,700 seek to Collect From Yellow Motor Co.

Four creditors who claim to hold judgments totaling $17,700 against the old Brown Cab Co. sued the Yellow Motor Co. of St. Louis in Circuit Court today in an effort to collect. They charged assets of the Brown Cab Co. alleged to be worth $250,000 had been conveyed illegally to the Yellow Motor Co., and asked a receiver be named to sequester these assets so their judgments should be levied against them.

The request for a receiver did not involve the Yellow Motor Co. as such, only the assets of the old Brown company, described as certain color rights, a contract for exclusive use of the concourse at Union Station and other property rights.

The creditors bringing suit were Edward F. Kewinshaus with a judgment for $3000; Claude Kendrick, $5500; Harry Richman, $1200, and E. Bruce White, $8000.

EYES PAINED

Lavoptik Astonishes Him

"I was astonished at the restful feeling LAVOPTIK gave my aching eyes. They will soon be perfectly well!"—C. Schwann.

LAVOPTIK is a mild, soothing anesthetic which helps eye pains and inflammation surprisingly quick. Makes tired and weak eyes feel strong and fresh. At all leading druggists.

NOTE: It would be illegal to publish this if not true.

GOITRE REMOVED

St. Louis Lady Reports Results in Four Weeks. Colorless Liniment Used.

Mrs. L. Engler, 5224 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo., says in her own home paper, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "I used Sorbol Quadruple four weeks and my inward goitre disappeared. There is no scar and I am now in the best of health. I was so miserable. My eyes, throat, heart and nerves were affected. I will gladly answer all inquiries."

Prepared by Sorbol Company, Manufacturers, Ohio. Sold by all drug stores. Locals at Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores.

Editor and Wife Hurt in Auto.
By the Associated Press.
LA PLATA, Mo., Oct. 27.—E. F. Schofield, editor of the Edina Sentinel, and his wife were injured in an automobile accident today on Highway No. 32, two miles north of here. Too-rapid driving was the cause given by Mrs. Schofield, who was driving while her husband studied a road map. Schofield was seriously cut about the mouth and face. They were en route to the State Editorial Association meeting at Joplin.

WOMAN HIT BY 2 AUTOS WHEN CROSSING STREET

Mrs. Minnie Mansfield, 75, is in Serious Condition With Fractured Skull.

Mrs. Minnie Mansfield, 75 years old, a widow of 4267 Potomac street, is in a serious condition at the home of her daughter, 3448 Morganford road, as result of being struck last night by two automobiles. One driver fled after striking her.

Mrs. Mansfield was knocked down as she was crossing the street in front of her daughter's home, her destination. She suffered a fractured skull, broken collar bone, a fractured rib and internal injuries. Ernest Bayer of 3905 Federal place, who was driving one of the automobiles, told police that a dark sedan darted past his machine, struck Mrs. Mansfield and threw her in front of his own car. He stopped, but the first machine continued without slowing down. Bayer, with the aid of neighbors, carried Mrs. Mansfield into her daughter's home.

Aloysius Flori, 75 years old, was seriously injured last night when run down by an automobile driven by Dr. Harry R. Barton of 5194 Maple avenue, while crossing at 2500 Lafayette avenue. Flori, who lives at 3002 Eads avenue, suffered skull fracture and severe cuts and bruises.

An automobile struck George Ramsey, 6, of 1116 South Sixth street, when he ran into the street from between two parked machines near his home, yesterday afternoon. The boy suffered skull injury. Samuel Berliotti Jr., 6, of 3781 Kosciusko avenue, suffered a fractured left leg when struck by a machine as he was crossing Prairie avenue near Kosciusko, late yesterday.

Michael Zelek of 16 South Seventh street, was critically injured while crossing at Chouteau avenue and Montross street, last night, when a machine ran him down. His left leg was fractured and he was internally hurt. John Hadgyes, 4, of 2517 South Second street, suffered skull injury when struck by a machine while crossing Second near Victor street, late yesterday. Ida Weronicki, 11 of 1937 Victor, was run down at Broadway and Victor last night, suffering injuries to skull and chest.

Thomas Keveney of 1110 Souldard street, thrown from his one-horse wagon last night, when the vehicle was struck by an automobile driven by William O'Brien of 500 North Fourth street, suffered injury of the back and legs.

A chain drive on the truck of William Olden, Negro, of 728 North Newstead avenue, broke at Taylor and Kosciusko avenues late yesterday, and Olden turned into Taylor street. The truck overturned, pinning him beneath. His spine was injured. Ted Hucklebroich, a barber, of 2027 Salisbury street, suffered a deep cut of the throat last night, when a rented machine he was driving, was struck by another at Vandeventer avenue and West Pine boulevard.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO BLOCKS OF DONIPHAN (MO.) BUILDINGS

Special to the Post-Dispatch. POPPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Oct. 27.—Almost two city blocks in Doniphann, 20 miles west of here, were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin that was discovered in the Whitwell store shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

The fire was fanned by a southwest breeze. The small fire equipment there could not cope with the situation and a small truck was sent from Poplar Bluff, arriving there about 4 o'clock. Soon afterward the blaze was under control. Dynamite stored near the Whitwell establishment exploded when the fire reached it. The total loss is estimated between $100,000 and $125,000. Among the establishments destroyed are the Old Fellows' Hall, C. O. Booker garage, three restaurants, J. R. Jaco jewelry store, a rooming house, the J. W. Cude store, one of the largest in town; J. R. Wright's undertaking establishment and a barber shop.

How to Get Rid of Colds and Catarrh

A Simple, Safe, Inexpensive Method That Clears Out the Head, Nose and Throat

There are many people suffering from chronic catarrh who would like to know how they can stop catching cold after cold. They realize that sooner or later this may lead to deafness and other serious troubles. Dr. Blosser, for years a specialist in catarrh, was the discoverer of a pleasant, direct method that can be used by women and children as well as men. His remedy is made from flowers, herbs, flowers and berries which you smoke in a small pipe or cigarette, and inhale the vapor into the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs, carrying medicine where sprays, douches and salves cannot possibly reach. It contains no cubes, tobacco or habit-forming drugs.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is effective in all forms of colds, catarrh, catarrhal deafness, asthma, hay fever, bronchial irritations, or, if subject to frequent colds, Dr. Blosser's Remedy. Get one of the pocket size packages from any drug store and prove for yourself the pleasant, beneficial effects.

To Dedicate Grant Birthplace.

By the Associated Press. CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 27.—Col. U. S. Grant III, Director of Public Buildings and Parks at Washington, and his family will attend the dedication Saturday of the restored log cabin in which his illustrious grandfather, Gen. U. S.

Grant, was born at Point Pleasant, O., and the dedication of the Grant memorial bridge across Indian Creek in the Grant memorial highway near the old homestead. Col. Grant will be accompanied by his wife, his three daughters and mother and sister, Princess Cantacuzene, just back from Europe.

FARM BUYING POWER HIGHEST IN 5 YEARS

Prices for Livestock and Crop Products Stabilized, U. S. Agricultural Report Says.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Farmers of the country are in their best position since 1920 in the matter of purchasing power of their products in terms of non-agricultural products, Secretary Jardine said yesterday in reviewing the farm situation.

As the chief reasons he mentioned the better position of livestock, dairy and poultry products, and added that this year's cotton crop at October prices was worth $200,000,000 more than last year's, although a third smaller.

The farm products purchasing power in terms of non-agricultural products was placed at $2 for September as against $1.88 for August, the 1920-15 five-year period being used as a base of 100.

"Conditions in general are rather reversed from last year," said Jardine's summary. The Cotton Belt, the Northern wheat belt, the cattle states, the Northwestern apple districts, are all in better shape. Some sections, like the Eastern corn belt and certain potato areas, are perhaps not in as good shape, but the general balance as between the major lines of production is better than last year.

Crop Production Small. There are no conspicuous surpluses or shortages. Crop production per capita of population is next to the smallest in 33 years.

Prediction that cattle prices would continue to remain high was made by the Secretary. Fewer cattle have been marketed in the first nine months of this year as compared with the same period last year, and they have been smaller in weight, but producers have been paid $37,000,000 more than a year ago.

Federal inspection records show 7,082,000 head of cattle were slaughtered under Government supervision in the nine months compared with 7,351,000 last year in those months. The total paid this year to producers was $569,000,000, while last year it was $522,000,000.

Western Cattle Higher. Shipments of unfinished cattle passing through stockyards in July, August and September to be fed were 25 per cent less than the same period last year, showing that fewer are going to feed lots, Mr. Jardine said. The number is the smallest in 10 years.

"For the first time since 1921, conditions this year are reported as having been more favorable for cattle men than for sheep men in the West, measure at least by comparison with the preceding year," he declared. "Western cattle prices this year are on a fairly remunerative basis for the first time since the 1920 collapse, due to an advance of from $2 to $4 per 100 pounds on nearly all classes of cattle, equivalent to from $12 to $19 per head, according to kind and weight."

Thought his case was hopeless Resinol cleared away pimples in a week

Lexington, Mass., March 5.—"I had been suffering from shaving pimples on my neck for years and, I believe, had tried everything under the sun for them without avail. One day on a friend's advice, I purchased some of your Resinol Ointment and was astonished at the quick results. After a week's constant use, the pimples disappeared completely, leaving the skin clear and fresh. I had thought my case was hopeless, so you can readily see why I was overjoyed at this cure! You can be sure that henceforth you have one more loyal booster for your product." (Signed) Fred J. For. 8 Bloomfield St.

INDICATES LAWYER GOT $76 ON FAKE BANKRUPT CLAIM

Supposed Creditors of Sam Stein Never Received Money—Attorney Jacob Mellman Cashe'd Check.

WILLIAM S. COHEN TALKS TO REFEREE

Corroborates Shopkeeper's Story That Counsel Helped Himself to Clothing Stock.

Evidence that Jacob Mellman, an attorney with offices in the Title Guaranty Building, padded the list of creditors in the case of a client, Sam Stein, bankrupt clothing merchant, thereby collecting for himself a fictitious debt of $76.55 ostensibly due a third person, was introduced at a hearing in the case before Referee in Bankruptcy Coles yesterday.

William S. Cohen, proprietor of a clothing store at 1625 South Broadway and former president of the South Broadway Loan Association, was the supposed creditor, a claim for $500 in his behalf having been listed under an assignment of Stein's stock of goods to the St. Louis Association of Credit Men in October, 1925.

Cohen at the hearing yesterday denied that Stein owed him $500 at any time and testified that he was not aware that Mellman had collected the pro-rated dividend of $76.55 in settlement of the alleged debt until advised of the fact by investigators several months ago.

Suggested Mellman to Stein, Cohen, under questioning by Trustee Edward Tobin and the Referee, testified that he knew Stein through the latter's dealings with the South Broadway Loan Association, of which Cohen was then president. In September, 1925, Stein, who owed the association $1000, requested an additional loan, saying that creditors were pressing him, Cohen said. Cohen testified he promised to take the question up with the directors of the association and in the interim advised Stein to see an attorney. Cohen said he suggested that Mellman, who was then secretary of the loan association, would be a good man and introduced Stein to Mellman.

Several days later, according to Cohen, Mellman told the loan association that an additional loan to Stein was unnecessary, as he was preparing an assignment of assets to creditors of the merchant. "I went to Stein's store with Mellman when he had Stein sign the assignment papers," Cohen testified. "I noticed that he had a new overcoat and made some remark about it. Mellman said he got it at Stein's store and asked me if I didn't think it was a pretty good coat. I asked him how he could take a coat from the store and he answered, 'What's the difference? The store doesn't belong to Stein any more, he is giving it to his creditors.'"

"When we got to the store Mellman walked around if he owned the place. I saw him pack up about $45 worth of stuff, including shirts, ties, a belt buckle and a watch fob. Stein asked Mellman if he hadn't taken enough the night before. Mellman answered, 'What do you care? The stuff belongs to your creditors now.'"

Fake Claim Proposed.
Cohen testified that the day following the visit to Stein's store Mellman suggested that Cohen file a claim for $500 against Stein. "He said I could make a piece of change, about $75 or a $100 on the basis of a 25 per cent settlement," Cohen testified. "I told him I didn't do business that way and that Stein didn't owe me anything."

The witness told the referee that he disregarded two notices to file a claim in the case and never saw the check for $76.55 until it was shown to him two months ago. The check, made payable to Cohen, bears the indorsement "William S. Cohen, by Jacob Mellman—Jacob Mellman."

Cohen's testimony in part was corroborative of a statement by Stein at a previous hearing that Mellman and two employees of the Credit Association took goods from the store. Stein testified that the attorney took $450 in merchandise, according to a secret record kept by Stein.

Mellman, who chanced to enter Referee Coles' suite of offices during the hearing, was invited to give his version of the various transactions in the case. Upon being refused a request that Cohen repeat his testimony Mellman declined to testify "at this time."

Another hearing in the case, which is under investigation by Department of Justice agents, will be held Nov. 13.

WOMAN BEATEN WITH BOARD

Miss Mary Conlon of 4219 Mar-fitt avenue was struck over the head with a board by a Negro last night as she was entering 4131 St. Louis avenue to visit the family of Albert Colien.

Colien pursued the Negro but he escaped. Miss Conlon was taken home after receiving emergency treatment.

She could give no reason for the attack. Police consider she was the victim of mistaken identity.

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Werfel's Latest

BY FRANK WERFEL (St. Louis Post-Dispatch Staff Writer.)

OLD HERR FIALA could look back to a time when he had been well up in the world of the lower middle class, but that before the war came and everything. Now that he is getting on in the sixties, the things had rather flat. To be sure, he still held on at half pay, which was a deal better than nothing; but one had to die, but unfortunately one must procure the money to do so. What would happen to the good old faithful Frau Fiala and their little son, Frank?

One had to die, but unfortunately one must procure the money to do so. What would happen to the good old faithful Frau Fiala and their little son, Frank?

KING HAS HISTORY OF ST. LOUIS WOMAN, 110

George V. Acknowledged Receipt of Story of Mrs. Miriam Banister.

While the hunt for pro-British books goes merrily on in Chicago, a hand-prepared American book about one of the oldest living British subjects, whose home is in St. Louis, reposes in the library of King George at Buckingham Palace, London.

The subject is Mrs. Miriam Sparks Banister, who, one hundred and tenth birthday was celebrated last March. The book was made by her son-in-law, with whom she resides at 5111 Waterman avenue. He is Alex. S. Mann, an artist. Mann is preserving the following letter from Buckingham Palace:

The Private Secretary is commanded to thank Mr. Alex. S. Mann for the history of Mrs. Miriam Sparks Banister, which he has been good enough to send for His Majesty's information, and which His Majesty has read with much interest.

Old Parish Church Burned. After "Grandma" Banister's latest birthday, her daughter, Mrs. Mann, and son-in-law were lamenting that her baptism record had been lost in a fire at her old parish church in Sidmouth, Devonshire, England.

"Why, I wasn't christened there," Mrs. Banister interjected; "they took me to a handier church near Sidmouth, Salcombe Regis parish."

The vicar of Salcombe Regis, the Rev. Hugh Bernard Clark, responding to a request, forthwith sent a certificate showing "Grandma" had been baptized there when an infant of 25 days, on April 13, 1817, by the curate, the Rev. William Jenkins Jr. Later, to avoid any question of doubt due to similarity of names on the rolls, the present vicar searched the records and found only the names of the other three children of Mrs. Banister's parents, John and Hester Voisey.

This correspondence with England and the fact that Mrs. Banister had never been naturalized prompted Mann to prepare the book for the king, and a copy for Mrs. Mann. The pages were carefully typewritten and embellished in gold. The story of "Grandma's" life was set forth and newspaper articles about her quoted. Many of the photographs inserted had been made by Post-Dispatch staff photographers in various years since Mrs. Banister was 100.

Matthew Arnold Knew Church. In the introduction of the book, Mann, addressing the king and queen, related that Mrs. Banister was baptized at Salcombe Regis Church, which Matthew Arnold, the English poet, called "the little, gray church on the windy hill."

The book relates that Mrs. Banister went to London at the age of 20, married her late husband, John B. Banister, a contractor, came to America in 1854, stayed in Cleveland seven years, then went to a farm at Canaan, Gasconade County, Mo., for the period of the Civil War, after which she came to St. Louis. The Canaan farmhouse was searched several times by Union sympathizers, who suspected erroneously that Banister was a Confederate spy, and he was falsely arrested twice.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann are planning to visit Sidmouth and Mann's birthplace in Scotland next summer. Invitations are out for a dinner and theater party to be given the

100 ST. LOUIS BUSINESS MEN TO TOUR SOUTHEAST MISSOURI

A one-day Good-Will tour of Southeast Missouri, during which stops will be made at 10 towns, is scheduled to begin tomorrow, from the quarters of the Chamber of Commerce, at 111 Locust street. The tour is under supervision of the Salesmanager's Bureau of the chamber.

Towns where stops are scheduled are Festus, De Soto, Boone Terre, De Soto, Flat River, Elvins, Farmington, Fredericktown, Jackson and Cape Girardeau. The return trip will be made by train, scheduled for arrival at Union Station at 11 p. m.

The forthcoming tour, on which 100 business men will go, was to have been made Sept. 20, but was postponed because of the tornado. It is the first Good-Will tour St. Louis business men have ever made to Southeast Missouri. Lionel Kalkh, chairman of the tour committee, will lead the delegation.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A membership campaign of the Chamber of Commerce, to be started early next month under supervision of the American City Bureau, a professional campaign organization, will follow completion of a survey now being made of the chamber's facilities, as a result of which it is planned to greatly extend and enlarge the scope of that body's activities.

As has been announced by Harold M. Bixby, president of the chamber, new departments will be added to those the chamber now operates, and the duties of other departments will be made more comprehensive. Plans for the enlarged chamber and for the membership campaign will be announced in detail at a dinner, the date for which has not yet been set.

Dr. P. P. Womer Addresses Club. Dr. P. P. Womer, president of Washburn College, Topeka, Kan., spoke on "American Citizenship" before the Co-operative Club at Hotel Statler yesterday. Dr. Womer established the department of American citizenship at Washburn and is making a lecture tour to encourage the establishment of similar departments in other colleges.

TO TOUR EUROPE

MISS ELEANOR CHURCH, daughter of Mrs. Rolla Wells of 25 Westmoreland place, will sail next week for a tour of Europe. She will be accompanied by Miss Ellen Bates, niece of Mrs. William Marritt of 4315 Westminster place. Miss Church and Miss Bates will be chaperoned by Mrs. Atwell Lincoln.

Dr. and Mrs. Vilray Papin Blair of 5 Kingsbury place have changed the arrangements for the debut party of their daughter, Miss Kathryn Blair, from a dinner dance to a ball. The change was made because of the weather. The party is now scheduled for Dec. 25, at the Princeton Triangle Club night, and with the present arrangements, the members of the club will be included in the guest list, and will motor to the St. Louis Country Club immediately after the performance.

The members of the club, numbering 75, will arrive the morning of Dec. 25, and will be the guests of Mr. Robert Burkham, president of the St. Louis Princeton Club, at a smoker at the Racquet Club. At 5 o'clock they will be honor guests at a tea dance which Mr. and Mrs. George H. Shields will give at the Country Club for their daughter, Miss Janet, and their son, George H. III. They will go directly to the theater at 7 o'clock for the performance at 8:15, and will depart after the Blair party for Kansas City to play their next engagement.

Mrs. Joseph W. Lewis of 12 Horstense place complimented three of the debutantes, Miss Grace Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moulton, and Miss Kate Edmondstone, Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herndon Smith, and Miss Anne Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. St. Louis. The guests listed included a group of this season's buds and some of those of previous seasons. Mrs. Lewis' daughter, Miss Emily Lewis, who is home from Bryn Mawr for the Carter-Walker wedding, was among the guests.

BONDSMEN ADMIT FALSE OATHS

Federal Judge to Hear Motion in Contempt Proceeding.
CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—George E. Q. Johnson, United States District Attorney, has been granted permission by Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe to file a rule to show cause why three Federal building bondsmen should not be cited for contempt of court.

The three men, D. A. Roti, William Jeffries, Negro, and Harry

Turnopol, during an inquiry conducted before Judge Cliffe during the last two weeks admitted they had sworn to false statements in filing schedules of bonds on which they appeared for Federal prisoners.

The Cargo of a Gloucester Fishing Schooner makes port in ST. LOUIS

Seafresh Pure Atlantic Ocean Fish—boneless, frosted, ready-to-cook

PURE Atlantic Ocean fish straight from Gloucester—ready to cook—with a flavor as fresh as if you had just taken it flashing and dripping from the sea. Seafresh comes to you boned, and cleaned, and packed in sanitary 1 lb. cartons—all you have to do is to take it out of the box and cook it like any other fresh fish!

An amazing new Frosting process—a swift chill in a temperature of 50 degrees below zero—brings this pure fresh flavor across the country straight to the table. It's so intensely cold that it holds the fish in its natural state while it is being sent to you.

Order a carton of Seafresh at your regular market. Cook it as you would any fresh fish—use one of the tested recipes on this page. The foremost domestic science experts say, "That's the most delicious fish I ever ate!"

RECIPES

SAUTÉD SEAFRESH FISH

Heat a frying pan and melt enough fat to cover the bottom. When hot, sauté the fillets or sliced Seafresh on both sides until brown (three to four minutes). The fish may be dipped in flour or cornmeal if a crust is desired. Season with pepper and serve with lemon-butter or with tartare sauce.

TARTARE SAUCE

1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 2 teaspoons minced olives, 1 teaspoon capers, 2 teaspoons minced pickle. Blend the ingredients together and serve with sautéd fish. Instead of the capers an extra teaspoonful of pickle may be used.

FRIED SEAFRESH FILLETS

Have a kettle of deep fat and heat very hot (300 deg. Fahr.) or until a square of bread will brown to a golden tint in 40 seconds. In most cooking fats this is before the smoking point. Season with salt and pepper and place the fillets a few at a time in the fat, and cook until golden brown, about five minutes. Remove and drain on brown paper. The fillets may be dipped in eggs and crumbs but will hold their shape perfectly without their use. Sliced seafresh may be cooked in the same manner. Season with plain or almond sauce and garnish with sliced lemon dipped in minced parsley.

INVENTS PLANE THAT ASCENDS VERTICALLY

Craft Rises 1900 Feet a Minute, Travels Forward and Remains Stationary.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The board of directors of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Co. which manufactures airplanes for military and commercial use, has just authorized construction of a "vertically rising airplane" of revolutionary design.

The machine is the invention of Maitland B. Bleecker, 24 years old, a graduate in aeronautical engineering of the University of Michigan, who spent nearly two years in the Curtiss plant, working up experimental data, which were checked and rechecked by the company's engineers before a decision was reached to manufacture a ship embodying his ideas.

Both the army and the navy were interested in the plane, but its theory was such a departure from present principles that neither would tie up a sum sufficient to construct it. Curtiss engineers and officials, however, were so "sold" on the showing of Bleecker's models in their wind tunnel tests that they decided to launch a $75,000 development program of their own.

HARRY TURNER TRIFLING WITH COURT, HIS ATTORNEY SAYS

Counsel for Editor Asks Leave to Retire From Case; Case Goes Over Again.

Declaring he believed his client was "trifling with the Court" in failing to appear to answer a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails, J. Ray Weinbrenner, attorney for Harry Turner, editor of "Much Ado," today asked permission of Federal Judge Davis to retire as Turner's counsel.

Turner had been scheduled for trial yesterday as a result of reprinting an alleged obscene article about Alice Temple McPherson, the California evangelist. The case comes into Federal court because the magazine was sent through the mails. When Turner failed to appear in court yesterday Judge Davis ordered his $5000 bond forfeited and issued a bench warrant for his arrest. Turner's surety was George Dominick, professional bondsman.

DEPARTMENT STORE DROPS SUIT AGAINST PIANO FIRM

May Company Had Sought $100,000 From Baldwin Co. for Alleged Unfair Practices.
The $100,000 suit brought last April against the Baldwin Piano Co., 1111 Olive street, by the May Department Stores Co., operating the Famous-Barr store, has been dismissed in Federal Court on motion of the plaintiff. Terms of the settlement were not made public.

It was alleged in the complaint that the Baldwin concern had offered a commission to sales agents employed by Famous-Barr on all business transacted with customers who were sent to the Baldwin store. As a result, it was alleged, the Famous-Barr store lost many customers and its business was thereby damaged.

PILES

Thousands Today Are Needlessly Suffering Terrible Agony.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women who have been suffering for years the terrible torture and agony of piles, are now able to get blessed relief through the use of Dr. J. S. Leonard's wonderful discovery.
Piles, according to Dr. Leonard, whether itching, bleeding, protruding or otherwise, are caused by poor circulation in the lower bowels. This in turn causes the blood to become stagnant, weakens the walls of the bowels, and tends to make the veins in this region soft and flabby.
It is practically impossible for you, or anyone in fact to expect any permanent relief of lasting results from Piles until you have absolutely freed the circulation in the lower bowel and let in rich, healthy blood which soothes and heals the raw, sore, sensitive membranes.

An Amazing SOAP Discovery

New BEADS of soap
replace chips and flakes

Colgate & Co. announce a startling scientific discovery which revolutionizes washing
...This patented* product is different in form, in action and in results from any other soap you have ever seen.

How you'll revel in that first Super Suds wash you hang out to dry in the sun! How your neighbors will envy its snowy whiteness!

Dishes that gleam and sparkle
...glittering china and glassware... Super Suds gets dishes sparkling clean in less time than any other soap.

Saves one extra rinsing

Women can now dispense not only with their washboards but with one extra rinsing as well. For these unique soap beads dissolve so completely your clothes can be rinsed like magic—you can save three-quarters of an hour's drudgery in rinsing alone—and your wash will never have that "yellow" look, which comes from clinging, undissolved soap particles.

SUPER SUDS is different from any other soap you have ever used. It is made, by a new patented* method, the form of beads—tiny, porous, quick-sudsing.

The instant these marvelous little beads hit running water they dissolve like magic, because their walls are incredibly thin (several times as thin as soap flakes). In wash you get rich, lively, hard-working suds which instantly begin to seep through your wash. The perfect blend of ingredients in Super Suds makes it the most efficient soap for all family washing including the finest fabrics.

When you use Super Suds there's no need to rub and scrub until your back aches. You can throw away your washboard forever.

*Product, process and apparatus covered by U. S. Letters Patent Nos. 1,051,441; 1,090,740; 1,600,503; 1,634,640 and Reissue No. 16,749.

OCTAGON Super Suds

The BIGGEST box of soap on the market for 10¢

Women marvel at these thin, quick-acting soap beads. On the left you see an amazing picture of these tiny beads through the lens of a powerful magnifying glass... the utterly different form of this new soap is the secret of whiter clothes—less drudgery—softer, daintier hands.

Saves hands in dishwashing

Try this quick-sudsing soap for dishwashing.

Learn the joy of using a soap that gets dishes sparkling clean with complete safety to your hands. Its scientific blend and complete solubility remove any possibility of harm to delicate skin.

A single trial will convince you of the difference this new form of soap will make in the appearance of your hands.

Leaves no film on dishes

Super Suds dissolves so quickly it saves much time in dishwashing. It dissolves completely—therefore it rinses off easily. No film of undissolved soap is left on glassware or china. You don't need to use a dish towel with Super Suds—and still you can have dishes that shine as though polished. Merely let them drain and dry by themselves.

Super Suds is inexpensive. It is the biggest box of soap on the market for the price—10c.

Why take chances with soaps that rodden your skin? With Super Suds you can wash dishes three times every day and still have hands as soft and dainty as a young girl's.

PAID TO DO NOTHING
AS MRS. KNAPP'S AIDAppointee Received $2000 But Could Find No Work, He Testifies.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Patrick J. Hogan, confidential investigator for Mayor Walker of New York, today told Commissioner Le Boeuf, investigating Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp's administration of the 1925 State census, how he could not find any work to do as a census employee. Appointed to the State census staff, he was unable, he said, to find anything to do but cash his pay checks.

Asked what his employment had been prior to becoming Mayor Walker's confidential investigator, Hogan said, "I was working on the State census, but didn't do any work." "Your work consisted entirely in cashing your check?" he was asked. "I didn't do anything else," Hogan answered.

After his appointment, he said, he went to the Albany office of the Census Bureau to introduce himself.

"To whom?" asked Le Boeuf. "O, some man who was sitting there." "What did you do then?" "I sat there. Nobody assigned me to do anything. So I went back the next day and sat around again. I thought I'd like to get transferred to New York, so I went to Mr. Knapp's office and told her. She said to go down to New York and Mr. Gleason (secretary of the Republican State Committee) would notify me when he wanted me. Three or four weeks, maybe more, went by, and one day I walked into the Forty-second street office. Mr. Gleason was busy, or maybe he wasn't there; anyway, I didn't see him, so I told them when Mr. Gleason came in to tell him that Hogan called. After a month or more I tried again. Then I thought 'Well, if this condition is agreeable to Gleason it is all right with me; I don't want to break up any organization.' I sent in my resignation some time in December.

"And you got $2000 for this?" "All the checks that came, I kept them."

"Is there anything else you can tell about the census?" "Not a thing."

By the Associated Press.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 27.—An intimation that Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former Secretary of State, believes "sinister influences" were primarily responsible for the present investigation into her conduct of the 1925 State census, was given here today in a brief informal statement from her counsel, Alexander Olin.

"After the completion of her defense," he told newspapermen, "she will be prepared to make an attack and to give such information as comes."

TAX COMMITTEE TO OPEN HEARING NEXT MONDAY

Corporation and Excise Levies Most Prominently Mentioned in Reduction Plans of G. O. P.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Four sources of revenue, that from corporations, individual incomes, excise-stamp and estates have been mentioned prominently to date as those most likely to be affected by prospective Congressional action.

Of this group, the corporation and excise-stamp taxes have been referred to most frequently in pre-session talk as those that will receive first consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee, which has original jurisdiction in all revenue matters.

While this committee will not initiate hearings on the subject until Monday, practically all of its membership has returned to the capital and those who have spoken have been in accord as to the source of tax income that should benefit by a reduction in rates. They, however, have differed materially as to the amount of reduction, both in gross amount and specific rates that should be made with party lines appearing sharply in the disagreement.

Democrats for $400,000,000 Cut. While most Republicans who have made public announcements are of the opinion that $300,000,000 represents about the maximum reduction that can be effected, Democratic members have come out for a minimum reduction of $400,000,000 and a maximum of about half a billion.

As yet the committee chairman, Representative Green of Iowa, has said nothing since his return to Washington except that he favored a general reduction of the corporation tax. On the other hand Representative Bacharach of New Jersey, a staunch administration Republican, said yesterday that he believed a cut of $300,000,000 possible. In this view he is supported by Representative Crowther of New York, another Republican on the committee.

Representative Garner of Texas, minority spokesman on taxation, however, has sounded a Democratic note for a reduction of at least $400,000,000 and Representative Collier of Mississippi (next to Garner in seniority among Democrats on the committee) has announced that he is in favor of this plan.

Battle Expected Over Reduction. Garner favored reduction of the corporation tax from 12 1/2 per cent to 11 or possibly 10 per cent, and outright repeal of the nuisance or excise-stamp taxes. Those Republicans who have announced their views, have held 11 per cent as the probable minimum for reduction in the corporation rate and almost all have argued for abolishment of the nuisance levies.

While Green and Garner are known to oppose repeal of the inheritance or estate tax, a number of members of both parties favor its abolition although most of this group have expressed doubt over whether the condition of the Treasury would permit such action at the present.

YOUNG WOMAN FATALY BURNED IN HOME

Presumed Kimono Miss Annette Rosen Wore Became Ignited by Gas Flames.

An open verdict was returned by the Coroner today in the case of Miss Annette Rosen, 23 years old, of 1333 Walton avenue, who was fatally burned at her home yesterday. The Coroner found that death was caused by burns, "whether accidental or intentional undetermined."

Her mother, Mrs. Harry Rosen, was in the basement when she heard screams and rushed upstairs to find her daughter in a daze, and her body badly burned. It was presumed that a kimono she was wearing had been ignited accidentally by flames of a kitchen gas stove, on which she was heating water for a bath. She extinguished the flames by plunging into the bathtub, partly filled with cold water. She died six hours later, without making a statement.

Patrolman William Boyce testified to finding a partly-burned sheet of paper and a package of safety matches floating in the bathtub and that neighbors told him Miss Rosen had been ill.

Two neighbors, Mrs. Mary Rosenberg and Mrs. Beale Rubenowitz, testified they considered the death accidental. They said Miss Rosen had not worked for three weeks because of illness, and was highly nervous.

The mother did not testify.

ACQUITTED OF SALOON HOLDUP

John Renkowski Freed by Jury in Circuit Court.

John Renkowski, 29 years old, 1322 Cass avenue, yesterday was acquitted of robbery by a jury in Circuit Judge Peary's court. He was charged with taking $150 from Joseph Greubel, 2624 McNair avenue, in the holdup of a saloon at 2201 Madison street, May 5 last.

Renkowski, although identified by State's witnesses, said he was home with his family when the holdup occurred.

J. M. Beck Named for Congress. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—James M. Beck, former Solicitor-General of the United States, was nominated yesterday as Republican candidate for Congress from the First Philadelphia District, comprising seven wards. If elected, he will fill the seat held by United States Senator-elect William S. Vare. Dr. John P. Mulrenan of Philadelphia was nominated as the Democratic candidate.

Are women particular?

Go into any department store and watch a woman buy. A pair of hose perhaps... a chic little hat... gloves... a pair of pumps. They know just what they want... they know quality and color values. Women are particular... about their clothes.

But are women as particular in their choice of table necessities? How do you buy coffee, for instance? Has the store a reputation for selling good coffee? Is it as fresh as it should be? Is it always uniform? How about the price?

Kroger Stores have, above everything, a reputation for selling good coffee. The green berries come direct from plantation. They are bleached, roasted and tested in the Kroger plant... uniformity and freshness is assured. Each brand is a distinct value. May we be permitted to say that Kroger coffees have that quality known as "It".... just like the little pumps to our right?

The West's Fight to Control the G.O.P.

A POLITICAL STORM - CLOUD now forming on the Western horizon may grow so large and lowering that some predict it will become a determining factor in the choice of a Republican Presidential candidate next year, and the drafting of the Republican platform. Far-Western Republican insurgents, under the joint leadership of Senator Norris of Nebraska and Senator Borah of Idaho, have organized to challenge the present Eastern domination of their party, have tentatively selected Senator Norris as their candidate for President, and have issued a statement which is in effect a manifesto to the present G. O. P. leaders. "Nothing since the statement of President Coolidge about not choosing to run (now reenforced by his statement that he would not consent to be drafted) has upset the political situation in the Republican party quite so much as this organization," says David Lawrence in a Consolidated Press dispatch from Chicago.

THIS LATEST ATTEMPT to organize the insurgent Republicanism of the Western farming States had its visible beginning on October 8, when Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, and William E. Borah of Idaho met in Senator Borah's Washington office to formulate their plan of campaign. This was followed by other conferences in which other insurgent leaders participated, and on October 12 it was announced that Senator Norris' Progressive colleagues are planning to enter his name in the Presidential primaries in the fourteen States that have direct election of delegates, including the Eastern stronghold of the Republican Old Guard.

The leading article in The Literary Digest this week deals with this unique change in the political situation, from all angles. It presents the views of outstanding newspapers from coast to coast. It is illustrated by timely and humorous cartoons.

ENDS LIFE AFTER SON IS FREED OF KILLING

Mother Takes Poison—Youth Had Been Tried for Murder of Father.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 27.—A few hours after her son had been acquitted of murdering his father, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, 45 years old, ended her life last night by taking poison, at her farm 20 miles north of Sedalia, at Longwood.

The father, Perry Patterson, was shot to death Feb. 12 as he and his sons, Henry and John, were returning home from a saw-mill. The sons said at the time that their father had stumbled over a log, accidentally discharging a shotgun he carried, and fatally wounding himself.

The case was reopened some time later, when John and his mother told the authorities that Perry Patterson had been killed by his son, Henry.

Henry, who is 22 years old, went on trial in Circuit Court here yesterday, charged with second-degree murder. After a few State witnesses had presented evidence which the defense contended was insufficient, the Court, without awaiting for defense testimony, instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. This was done.

Both the mother and John Patterson "fronted" for the son and brother and in testimony they offered failed to substantiate their former statements.

The mother returned home, ate a light supper, and swallowed poison, dying soon afterward. She is survived by five children.

FATHER REGAINS CUSTODY OF HIS THREE CHILDREN

Courtroom Scene of Tearful Parting When Judge Decides Aunt Must Give Them Up.

The courtroom of Circuit Judge Rutledge yesterday was the scene of the tearful parting of an aunt and three small children who had been in her custody since their mother's death a year ago and who, by a court ruling, were turned over to their father, Charles Hauck of 2418A McNair avenue.

The children—Daniel, 8 years old; Ethel, 3, and Harold, 2—were given to the custody of their mother when she obtained a divorce March 25, 1925, but since her death have been living with their aunt, Mrs. Margaret Schlette, 3008 Lemp avenue. Though Hauck, who has remarried, has paid $10 per week for their care, Mrs. Schlette refused to turn the children over to him upon his request.

Yesterday's ruling was the result of habeas corpus proceedings brought by Hauck. The apparent reluctance of both aunt and children in being separated created a scene which attracted attention of persons in the courthouse as the party left the courtroom.

ASKS FOR GRAIN CO. RECEIVER

Counsel for Two Women Officers Says Business Needs Manager.

A request for a receiver to operate the business of the Powell & O'Rourke Grain Co., Merchants' Exchange Building, was presented to Circuit Judge Hall today by Walter J. G. Neun, counsel for Mrs. Mary E. O'Rourke, vice president of the company and her daughter, Marjorie, secretary and treasurer.

Their petition declared George F. Powell, president of the grain company, was ill and the business as a result was in need of someone in authority to conduct the operations of the grain elevator the company leases from the Terminal Association. A hearing was set for tomorrow. The action was directed against the company and against Powell and his wife, Connie, a vice president.

ALFANO MEETS KNUPP ON FIGHT CARD TONIGHT

Pair Is Scheduled in 10-Round Bout as Feature of East St. Louis Program for Tornado Benefit Fund.

Ray Alfano, former National A. A. U. featherweight champion, and Art Knupp, young St. Louisan, will clash in a 10-round bout which features the first in a series of fights for the benefit of the Tornado Relief Fund, to be held at the Alhambra Theater in East St. Louis tonight under the supervision of the Illinois State Athletic Commission. The boxing card is for the Tornado Relief Fund, which was organized to help the victims of the recent tornado in the St. Louis area. Alfano ended his hard training with a limbering-up workout at the Knights of Columbus gymnasium on the East Side yesterday afternoon and was pronounced in good condition by Eddie Barth, his manager and trainer. Don O'Keefe sent Knupp through a stiff schedule of exercises at the Business Men's gymnasium here and he, also, is said to be in readiness. Neither is expected to have any trouble making the 133 pounds. Charles "Chuck" Byers of Toledo, boxing instructor and student at St. Louis University, and Al McCoy, rugged local fighter, are the pair of sluggers Matchmaker Willard Barrett has signed for the eight-round semifinal at 142 pounds. Jack Cory, East St. Louis, and Grubb Whalen, St. Louis, 148-pounders, mix in the six-round preliminary while Willie Lewis and Jesse James, local Negro lightweights, entertain in the four-round curtain raiser. Tonight's program starts at 8:15 o'clock. Each of the bouts is to a decision of a referee and two judges, these to be named by the Illinois State Athletic Commission.

John Jones' Crew, However,
Is Hampered by Summer
Weather—Exams Slow Down Hawley's Men.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Princeton will be undefeated and united among the East's major football teams, but the followers of old Hawley cannot help but ponder on how much better Bill Roper's varying would look with Jake Slagle.
The Tiger has engaged in four games this season and only Cornell has been able to cross the Princeton goal line. Yesterday Slagle, now a backfield coach at Princeton, ran through the varsity in a scrimmage for 49 yards and a touchdown. The All-American star of 1926 scored the only points of the game.

Hot Weather Hinders Practice.
Coach Roper is developing plans for the Ohio State game, which may account for the secrecy in the Tiger camp. No lineup change has been announced for the William and Mary game Saturday.

Summer weather has slowed down workouts in the Yale camp.
The Jones abandoned a scrimmage program yesterday and confined the schedule to running signals and dummy practice. Dartmouth's preparations for the Yale contest have been cut short by classroom examinations. Coach Jesse Hawley expressed dissatisfaction with progress so far this week but said he had not planned heavy work in one of Dartmouth's last two hard games.

BRIANTE AFTER GRANGE'S MARK IN SCRIMMAGE GAINS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—
ITH five more games to play, "Ten Yards" Briante,
New York University fullback, is out to tie or surpass Red Grange's 1923 record of gaining 1260 yards in scrimmage.

Briante has made 917 yards in the 50 times he has carried the ball. He was used in only half of last week's game against Rutgers.

Four shifts have been made in the Army lineup for the game with Bucknell, but the Cadets, with their revised lineup, were able to put over only one touchdown yesterday on the scrum.

Penn State, making ready for the Lafayette game, scored four touchdowns against its second team. All the points were scored in less than 20 minutes.

Columbia held its last hard workout for the Cornell battle behind closed gates. Fred Rieger and Harry Kumpf, backfield stars, are still on the injured list and may not start Saturday. Coach Gilmour Doble is worried about his guards and is using several combinations at the positions.

New York University took a rest from scrimmage and went over Colgate plays in a long workout.
Chuck Meschan's team is in tiptop condition.
Coach Lew Andrews was uncertain whether Capt. Barbuti would start in the Syracuse lineup against Nebraska as he left with his squad of 24 players for Lincoln.

Gas on Stomach for 10 Years; Keeps Trying Everything

AFTER TRYING everything advertised or recommended for the relief of gas bloating and indigestion, Mr. Belland had just about given up hope. But one day he saw an advertisement like this one, and you can imagine how delighted he was when at last he found what he had searched for so long—complete relief!
Here is what he says:

"I suffered with gas and other stomach trouble for over 10 years. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing seemed to help. Then I got a bottle of Adlerika and it helped me right from the start. Since taking it, I am feeling like a new man."—Ed Belland, Virginia, Minn.

Quick Action Surprises

AS GENTLY and naturally as taking a drink of water, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, bringing immediate relief from gas bloating, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation.

The very FIRST dose of Adlerika often brings out astonishing amounts of old waste matter from the intestinal canal. This poisonous matter may have been in the intestines a long time, causing gas, headache, sleeplessness and many other symptoms. A treatment of a few weeks with Adlerika often corrects chronic constipation and intestinal stasis, so that just a small dose, now and then,
keeps the intestines and stomach in a most satisfactory condition.

What Doctors Say

DR. H. LOUIS SHOUPE, B. Sc., well-known New York pathologist, after laboratory tests on living subjects, states: "Adlerika very markedly reduces the number of bacteria and colon bacilli. This feature increases the therapeutic value of Adlerika, because, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action, it inhibits the growth of these intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. J. Lancaster, a physician of over a quarter century's active experience, makes this statement: "In the treatment of gastro-intestinal disorders, (where thorough evacuation is indicated), Adlerika has no equal."

Dr. Carl Weschcke, a graduate of the world-famous medical University of Heidelberg, Germany, in his private practice, first perfected the intestinal cleanser and carminative now known as Adlerika. It is a compound of a specially processed saline intestinal evacuant with buckthorn and cascara, together with glycerine and other ingredients which expel gas and have detergent action.

Adlerika, unlike most other medicines, acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels. It is recognized by many physicians as the one dependable remedy for gas, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation, or whenever real intestinal cleansing is needed.

Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika may surprise you by bringing out poisonous, gas-forming matter

MR. ED BELLAND
which you would never believe was in your system.

In just a single month, over one thousand men and women wrote that they obtained wonderful relief from even a short treatment with Adlerika.
Many of them said that now, after all other treatments and medicines had failed, they are at last rid of gas, indigestion, sour stomach, sleeplessness, nervousness or other trouble due in their cases to intestinal stasis. And now, these folks say, they are again able to eat and enjoy the foods they like.

No matter what you have tried for the bowels and stomach, Adlerika will surprise you.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough examination. They were constipated. In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with psyllium. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying. No one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. It is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

WAGE-EARNER BANKRUPTCIES LAID TO SALARY-GRABBERS AND OVERBUYING ON CREDIT

Walter J. Grant, Veteran Referee in Illinois, Explains 200 Per Cent Increase in Failures Since 1922.

Little Green Capsule Stops Rheumatic Agony

Every once in a while a real discovery is made in medical history—one that benefits a host of unfortunate people.

And now it's the patient men and women who have long suffered the torturing rheumatic agony of pain racked, swollen joints whose throes has come—who have drawn the prize.

The fame of the little green capsule, because of its canny power to speedily stop the terrible rheumatic pains that make life almost unbearable, is rapidly spreading all over America.

You go about conquering your merciless rheumatic enemy in a different way—a knock-out way. Every hour the first day you take one little green capsule for just ten hours—then relief comes.

The second day, take one every two hours for 12 hours—then take 4 little green capsules every day until every little twinge and every bit of tenderness is gone and your rheumatic troubles have ceased.

The little green capsule now so much in demand from coast to coast must have a name so it is known in every worth-while drug store in America as Allenhu Number 2.

As is usual with successful remedies, there will probably be imitations so for your own protection insist on Allenhu Number 2.

And please remember this—the little green capsule must give you prompt relief—must give you abundant satisfaction—must free you from rheumatic distress or the price you pay for the first full bottle will be promptly refunded by Wolff-Willson Drug Stores or any reputable drugstore in America.

a lawyer and a referee in bankruptcy. Grant is Referee in Bankruptcy for the Eastern Illinois judicial district which comprises 45 counties in Southern and Eastern Illinois. Grant, who has had 23 years experience with bankruptcy cases as

Through the so-called Central West District, including Illinois, there has been more than a 50 per cent increase in the last four years in the number of bankruptcy cases filed; this in spite of the fact that during the same period fewer mercantile failures have been reported. Grant told a Post-Dispatch reporter at East St. Louis.

Causes of the Increase.

"The increase of failures necessarily came in the main from farmers and wage earners. Unusual deflation and depression from war-time prices of farm lands and products, affecting the tenant as well as the owner of war-time priced land, are causes sufficient to account for the large increase in cases of this class.

"But we must look for other causes to account for the increase of the wage earners, whose pay check is nearly double any remuneration received prior to 1917, and who, generally speaking, have had steady employment for a long, prosperous period (excepting the coal miner) yet from this class petitions seeking relief in bankruptcy have increased from 100 a year, up to 1922, to 350 in 1926.

There is a bootlegging loan business which is one of the industrial centers of Illinois that is a real menace to legitimate business, and the poor wage earner that is caught in its clutches finds himself in desperate straits, for his position is usually sacrificed by the insistent and greedy demands of the so-called salary buyer.

"This financial snake seems to be amenable to no law of God or man. He violates no prohibition of usury for he charges no interest. He seemingly is immune from criminal prosecution, for he procures a legal and enforceable contract. His mode of operation is to buy the future salary of the victim by assignment. In the first transaction with the victim his discount is reasonable and fair, but from month to month he bit deeper and deeper until the victim is begging for a small part of his own salary to keep his own body in actual necessities. This practice has taken quite a hold in the business at East St. Louis.

"Salary grabbers" charge a "discount" of from 4 to 80 per cent a month. State licensed loan companies charge interest of 3 1/2 per cent a month, Grant said.

Overbuying on Installment Plan. In discussing overbuying of the installment plan, Grant mentioned as typical a bankruptcy petition filed by a $140-a-month railroad clerk. The petition listed 22 creditors with claims of $1400. He had run up a big bill with his grocer and, when sued, sought credit from two other grocers. He owed two months' rent on his flat. He listed as "worthless" an automobile for which he was paying garage rent. His flat was well furnished—radio, victrola, iceless refrigerator, etc.—bought "on time" from six different stores.

"Not a substantial piece of furniture in his flat can be held by that man as against those six installment houses listed," remarked Grant. "They hold what we call a Conditional Sales Contract or Title Reserved in the Vendor" until the last installment has been paid.

"He doesn't own a solitary thing of value but his wife and 3-year-old child. He has been oversold by easy credit—the installments to the six furniture houses, payable every two weeks, absorbed every dollar of his salary over and above his rent; the grocer, milk man, dry goods merchant and doctor have to wait; no cash left to make any payment on account.

"While this case is typical, it is mild, as to the extent of easy buying. Most schedule contracts for jewelry, women's apparel, hardware, men's clothing, baby carriages, all reduced to debtors' possession on a very small down payment, but the balance in endless pitiless amounts."

The licensed money lender, as distinguished from the "salary buyer," is not as a rule a contributor to bankruptcies, according to Grant.

Total stock sales, $388,600,000 shares.

The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Speculative selling, particularly in the steel group, brought further recession in the stock market today.

Some of the leading issues declined to new low levels for the movement.

The unstinting of the market was largely due to unsatisfactory conditions in the steel industry, which encouraged bear traders to loose another spirited attack on the volatile shares.

Although rallying tendencies developed for a time in the early afternoon, and there were hopes of short covering on the rebound in some issues, the pressure continued heavy, and prices at the close were following an unrelenting trend.

Nevertheless, there was quite a sprinkling of strong spots in divers sections of the list, notably among the Insurance, Banking and Packing shares.

Continental, Fidelity-Phenix and Rockwell Insurance all advanced.

Banking shares, with extreme gains of 1 1/2, 3/4 and 1 1/4 points respectively. Cudahy led the packing shares.

The hardest hit issues were the speculative leaders, such as General Motors, U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Smelting, Raychem, and others.

Steel common touched a new low for the movement, and closed around 13 1/2, with a net loss of more than 2 points.

General Motors declined 1 1/2 on the day, after selling as low as 12 1/2.

Accumulation of the investment funds, which has been going forward for several days, was checked by the appearance of reports showing shrinking earnings by such important roads as New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Atchafalaya.

Central was down 3/4 at one time, but recovered nearly half the loss, while Atchafalaya made up all of a 2 point loss in the final hour.

Some Oils Rise.

Some of the oils sold on the current trend in Houston selling up to 150 1/2, and holding part of its gain, while Atlantic Refining also advanced.

Independent motors gave a fair account of themselves, considering the selling in General Motors, Mack Truck providing the feature.

Case Threshing Machine, Montgomery-Ward and Fleischman Co. all were trading toward the close, the last named touching a new peak for the year.

Among the new lows for the year were several of the independent steels, such as Crucible, Ludlum, Republic and Superior, and a few such specialties as Remington Rand and American Piano.

Traders were awaiting the announcement of brokered loans after the close with rather more than usual interest.

A decrease of more than $90,000,000 was shown by the Federal Reserve Board statement. While banks withdrew $12,000,000 of loans, call money ruled at the renewal rate of 3 1/2 per cent.

Considerable speculative interest centered in the meeting minutes of the American Iron and Steel Institute, at which the current low prices are expected to furnish an important topic of discussion.

Election of Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, as president of the institute, succeeding E. H. Gary, was announced this afternoon.

Time money rates remained unchanged and the Federal Reserve Bank maintained its rediscount rate of 3 1/2 per cent. Commercial paper rates were firmer.

Exchange Higher.

Interest in commodities centered largely in cotton, in which the trend continued upward in the early dealings, stimulated by Secretary Jardine's comments on the action later, however, the quotations fell to 40 points under yesterday's close.

Wheat futures showed little change, coffee was easier at 24 to 32 points lower, while sugar held steady.

A firm trend ruled the foreign exchange market, with gains of 2 to 3 points or more in German, Norwegian, Dutch and Austrian currencies.

Demand strengthened slightly higher around 4.86 1/16, and French francs close to 4.93 1/4.

LOANS TO BROKERS AND DEALERS DOWN $90,330,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Loans to brokers and dealers held by Federal Reserve bank were down for the week ending Oct. 26 to $90,330,000, compared with $93,447,000 the previous week.

F. C. Lowry Coffee Exchange Head.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Frank C. Lowry of Lowry & Co., today was elected president of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange.

The late Leopold R. Bache.

SHARES SOLD

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Total sales 1,883,000 shares, compared with 2,280,000 yesterday, 2,200,000 week ago and 1,807,000 a year ago. Total sales from Jan. 1 to date were 450,836,500 shares.

Common sales 1,718,000; preferred, 165,000.

Motors with bearings that won't throw oil

MOST motor "burnouts" are caused by oil-soaked windings—which, in turn, are caused by leaky bearings.

Westinghouse motors, having Sealed-Sleeve Bearings, avoid the highest items of maintenance cost—bearings worn by the entrance of dirt and grit, and windings shorted by leaking oil.

In addition, Sealed-Sleeve Bearings retain all the advantages of the familiar sleeve type bearing—simple construction; ease of replacement; ability to withstand shocks and vibration.

Buy only motors equipped with Sealed-Sleeve Bearings and you buy longer life with lower maintenance cost.

Put one responsibility back of the entire motor application by using Westinghouse control apparatus, along with Westinghouse motors.

STRIKING MINERS, LED BY GIRL, IN CLASH AT COLORADO SHAFT

Two Acts of Sabotage Attributed to I. W. W. Sympathizers; Damage Put at $1000.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.—Striking miners, led by a girl, Amelia Sablick, called "the little Amazon," clashed with workers at one coal mine in Colorado today and two acts of alleged sabotage were reported.

Several blows were struck and three arrests were made when I. W. W. strikers from Walsenburg, Aguilar and Trinidad, under the leadership of Miss Sablick, attempted to induce men at the Delagua mine in Las Animas County to quit work. Few of the Delagua miners heeded the exhortations of the pickets. Deputy Sheriff intervened after several fist fights started and prevented further trouble.

A small bridge spanning Bear Creek on a private road between the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. mines in the Walsenburg district was burned and officials expressed the belief that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Fires were discovered at the two entrances of the Y. M. C. A. Building at the Morely mine in Animas County late last night while miners were meeting with officers of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. The flames broke up the conference which had progressed to a point where a resolution virtually had been accepted expressing the miners' approval of the present wage scale. Property damage amounted to $1000.

In an executive proclamation yesterday, Gov. Adams denounced the I. W. W., which is fostering the strike, and said it developed that county officers could not enforce the law the State would give all assistance necessary.

Senator Couzens' Daughter to Wed.
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 27.—Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Madeleine Couzens, eldest daughter of United States Senator and Mrs. James Couzens, to William Rumer Yaw. Yaw attended Ohio State University and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Yaw of Gloucester, O. He has lived in Detroit about five years. Miss Couzens will complete a law course in George Washington University next spring.

paying daily toll to cachexia
(run-down condition)

Beset by doubts and fears, nervous and irritable, constantly worn down to the ragged edge, how many women and men today are suffering the ravages of cachexia (run-down condition)? Probably millions. But it is pleasant to know that a large percentage of these cases will respond to the curative powers of the simple food, yeast.

And now you can get yeast in a form you'll like—Yeast Foam Tablets. Dainty little pellets of pure yeast. Easy to swallow or fine to chew like candy. Try them once and you'll know how good they are.

PLANS STATE GAME REFUGE NORTH OF MISSOURI RIVER

Commissioner McCassey Explains Arrangements for Benefit of Hunters.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO, Mo., Oct. 27.—Plans of the State Game and Fish Department to establish several auxiliary game refuges north of the Missouri River were outlined here last night by Keith McCassey, State Game and Fish Commissioner, before the local chapter of the Izaak Walton League and members of the Audubon County Chamber of Commerce.

All of the present State parks are in Southern Missouri where large wooded tracts are available. No large tracts could be purchased by the State in Northern Missouri, as its highly developed agricultural sections made the cost too great.

McCassey explained, however, he said a survey of Northern Missouri was in progress under the direction of Field Warden H. L. Piper, and that it was the intention to establish a game refuge in every district before the end of 1938. This game refuge law authorizes the leasing of hunting rights in large tracts.

McCassey explained, however, he said a survey of Northern Missouri was in progress under the direction of Field Warden H. L. Piper, and that it was the intention to establish a game refuge in every district before the end of 1938. This game refuge law authorizes the leasing of hunting rights in large tracts.

THE WAY
—OF—
A WOMAN—By—Marguerite Mooers Marshall"Passing the Love of Woman?"

ANYWHERE there are marvelous friendships between man and woman, maybe there are extraordinary impersonal loves—devotions to cause or ideal; maybe these high passions are superior to the love woman gives to man. But somehow you never hear about them—they never get into the papers. The news, on the other hand, is continually turning up true love stories in which a woman not only expresses but governs her splendid self-forgetting affection for son or lover or husband. Other loves may be "passing the love of woman," but, to do this, they must come!

The great love in the hearts of two New York women has been in the news within the last week. Even though she thought it would be the best thing for him, Fanny Brice, "funniest woman on the stage," frankly admits that she still loves her erstwhile husband, Nicky Arnstein.

"It's my man," she sang to countless audiences, and how overwhelmingly she proved it! When he was "wanted" for swindling and surrendered himself, his wife drove him to police headquarters and away again after arranging for bail, his wife denied help to reporters and police that he could be guilty of wrongdoing, his wife spent her earnings right and left in his defense, his wife visited him as often as she was allowed when he was serving his term in Leavenworth, his wife welcomed him with a Christmas party when he came out. Fanny Brice's ardent devotion to her man was a brave, proud, defiant challenge to all the world.

EVEN while she was in the act of divorcing him—because, as she said, "if a man wants to go you can't hold him"—she still gallantly displayed her love like a banner flying in the wind.

"They asked me Monday in Chicago if I loved him," she told reporters when she reached New York with her decree. "This is Friday. My answer is still 'yes.' I'll never love anyone else. If a woman can fall in love the second time she never really was in love the first time."

Her nine years of selfless loyalty gave her the right to speak with some bitterness of the woman she says stole her husband from her. Replied Fanny:

"The knew all about me and what I had gone through for him. Yet she persisted. All men to fall in love with—Nicky!"

"I wish I knew what she has that I haven't got. I've been a failure in everything—but the divorce."

And she gave ultimate proof of her understanding of real love. "I've a report quoted to her another actress 'line'—that 'a woman had not lived until she had had five husbands.'"

"A woman," retorted Fanny Brice, "who had five could be sure she hadn't lived at all."

THE brief, tragic story of another New York woman who loves a man supremely was told the other day by the newspapers, at the aftermath of the arrest of William Duffy, a chauffeur, on the charge of attacking his mother, Mrs. Mary Spaulding. She was beaten into unconsciousness, according to the police. Yet we quote The World's story—"she stood in Jefferson Market Court, looking through eyes her son is alleged to have discolored by his blows and said to Magistrate Brodsky:

"He is my son. I love him and do not want him prosecuted."

"And as the son, William Duffy, was being taken from the courtroom after Magistrate Brodsky had ordered him sent to Bellevue Hospital for observation, his mother handed him a package.

"Here are some clothes I washed for you, Willie," she said. "I thought you might need them." "Duffy accepted the package and began to sob loudly."

A WOMAN is reminded of the song Yvette Guilbert used to sing about the youth who, to please his mistress's cruel caprice, brought her his mother's heart. As he bore it, he stumbled and the heart fell from his hand. Out of the dust his mother's voice spoke, "That hurt thyself, my dear?"

These women, to be sure, loved "not wisely." But do not such legends of loving women with which life as well as books are filled—convince the evaluator of human emotion that the phrase, "passing the love of woman" should be followed always by a question mark?

Love's Summer.
Break days, when all the world is gray.
With sodden leaves beside the way
And shivering trees at break of day Between autumn, Dear.

But all the songs the summer had
To make the passing moments glad
Are singing in my heart, my Lad,
When all around is scar.

Break days and allences, I said—
Leave burning out, in gold and red.
Yet, sweetheart, there is nothing dead
Since you are here!

NEW LIGHT FROM OLD MANUSCRIPTS
ON QUEEN SHEBA AND CLEOPATRASolomon's Beautiful Guest, It Appears, Was Not an Ethiopian, But a Copper-
Skinned Arabian.By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN European Staff Correspondent of the New York Evening World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

IT has taken 3000 years for it to come to light. The Queen of Sheba had an exciting love affair with King Solomon, and Cleopatra, the serpent lover of Antony, dyed her hair. Solomon actually proposed to the Sheba woman, as was his invariable custom with beautiful ladies, but she turned him down flat after spending several months feasting and shopping at his expense in Jerusalem.

Proof of the original Sheba's fickle nature, vagaries has been unearthed in the British Museum through a translation of ancient Sanskrit manuscripts and tablet inscriptions. Another document examined by the scientists revealed some interesting sidelights on the life, manners and eccentricities of Cleopatra, the woman who enthralled Rome's Generals in her love intrigues.

Contrary to hitherto accepted opinion, the Queen of Sheba was not a Negress, but a copper-skinned Arabian. There was only one defect to her beauty, which the classic papyri styles "astonishing and marvelous." She had a large mole on her left ankle and was in constant dread that it should be discovered. Solomon's keen eye, however, spotted the defect and he hastily summoned his beauty experts, who removed it by means of applying a chemical composition, the secret of which has been lost in the course of the ages.

THE documents, which only now have been translated, came to the British Museum after the defeat and suicide of the Emperor of Abyssinia in 1888. They bore the title, "Glory of the Kings," and show that the Emperor of Abyssinia actually descended from Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Incidentally, the manuscripts bring to light the secret of the existence of a curious people in the hinterland of Arabia, who had adopted the Jewish religion and rituals.

When Sheba returned from Jerusalem, where she had been with her 900 camels loaded with gifts, she was so much in love with the King that she decided to go to Jerusalem herself, being urged also by the stories she had heard of his magnificence and personal charm.

What she saw in Jerusalem is known from the Bible's account. "Not half has been told me," she exclaimed as she gazed upon the splendor. The journey had taken three months, according to the ancient script, and she had brought with her 900 camels loaded with gifts.

SOLOMON, it appears, was delighted with her, so much so that he spent a great deal of time in her company and planned all sorts of schemes to make her stay as Queen and ruler of the Jews. It was when she was crossing a court that had been flayed with water one day that Solomon spied the mole on her ankle. Marriage was proposed several times, but the records say that although the Queen's vanity was tickled by the prospect of "cutting out" 700 wives and 300 concubines, she refused to remain permanently in Judea.

Tradition has it that Solomon entertained her one evening at a supper of 10 courses of highly seasoned and strongly salted food, and afterwards had every jug or drinking vessel in the palace removed, with the exception of the carafes, which he kept in his private boudoir, hoping that the Queen would be forced to come to him when she became parched with thirst. The Queen came and, say the records, quite accidentally found herself in Solomon's presence. Here she scribbled drew it up by her own hand.

In course of time the Queen of Sheba gave birth to a boy whom she named David, but who is known in the ancient manuscripts as "the son of the wise man." The boy later returned to Palestine to visit King Solomon, but it was not necessary to produce his letters of credit or the royal ring that Solomon had given his mother. Everybody in Jerusalem recognized him at once. He was the image of his father.

The records further speak of the great change of religion in the Queen of Sheba's country, from the populace turned to Judaism. "We know," so the script concludes, "that our Kings are the true Kings of Zion and that God loveth exceedingly the people of Ethiopia and that our nation has more glory and grace and majesty than all the other peoples on the earth."

OF CLEOPATRA, who lived 1000 years after Sheba, the newly translated documents tell another story. By nature, it appears, the Queen was not favored above other women. But she had a strong determination from her youth to do all in her power to outshine her sisters in beauty and bodily grace. Her first act after ascending the throne of Egypt was to convoke a council of magicians and potion-mixers, whom she charged, upon pain of death, to "render her like the sun in comeliness and looks." The gentlemen slaves, gold, precious stones and a huge consignment of gums. There was some resentment in the Queen's country over her conciliatory attitude. Several chiefs advised her to ignore Solomon's commands and declare war. Solomon treated her embassy with disdain, and at this the Queen decided to go to Jerusalem herself, being urged also by the stories she had heard of his magnificence and personal charm.

set to work. The Egyptians were great chemists; they also had studied beauty lines.

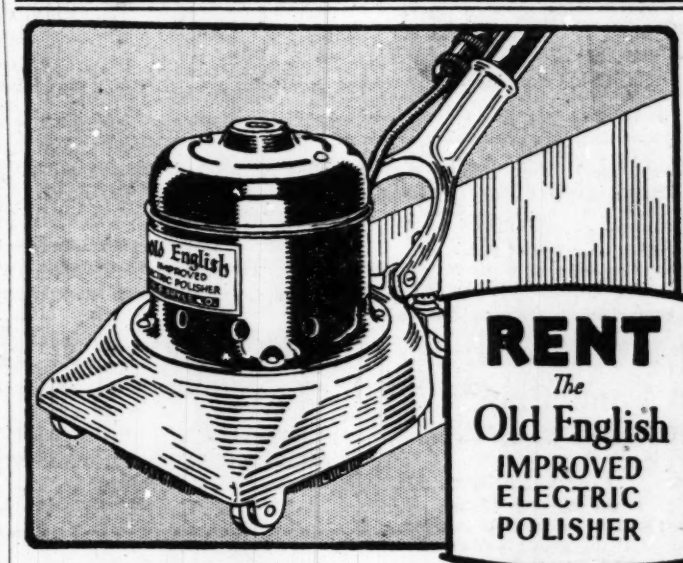

The beauty council prescribed a diet for the Queen which would assure permanency of her graceful figure. She was never to touch any spice or heavy wines. The moment she did she would not only lose her feminine grace, but also her kingdom, the magicians and astrologers added. To the strict regime thus prescribed she was faithful to the end. She drank nothing but water. She dyed her hair a "glowing purple" and bathed her eyes in a lotion that made them "sparkle like emeralds."

Of the tempestuous love episode with Antony, the Roman General, the manuscripts reveal that the Queen had herself built a floating palace, adorned with all the luxury and magnificence that 2,000,000 Egyptian talents could buy. It was propelled noiselessly by 240 slave-rowers. A string band, hidden from view, played the hymn to Aphrodite. On this ship she entertained Antony and Julius Caesar. But of her tragic end by a snake bite not a word is in the documents.

Extremely beautiful pottery, which is adapted to many purposes, comes from Denmark and is particularly lovely when it is in shades of rich blues and greens on a cream background.

Now! Wax and Polish Floors
Quicker, Easier, Better—Insist on This Machine!

Housewives can now rent new improved electric floor polisher by the day for a very small sum

With this wonderful machine everybody can now afford to have beautiful waxed floors—whether their floors are old or new—wood, linoleum, waxed, varnished, shagreened, painted.

The Old English Improved Electric Polisher makes child's play of waxing and polishing. Much easier than using a vacuum cleaner. No noise. No soiled hands or clothes.

Works like magic! Just apply thin coat of Old English Wax (Paste or Liquid). Then guide the Electric Polisher over floor. Instantly you have a brilliant, hard polish that is lasting.

Gives best results when used with Old English Wax.

The exceptionally large brush area (26 square inches on the floor) saves many steps. Brush rotates 3000 times per minute, giving a quicker and harder polish. Direct drive from motor to brush—no gears to wear out, no belts to stretch. Specially designed to get into every corner, right up to baseboards, under furniture.

Equipped with rugged universal motor and connects to any light socket; costs but few cents an hour to operate. Built sturdily, yet entire outfit can easily be carried by child.

With all these improvements, the design is still very simple and nothing can get out of order.

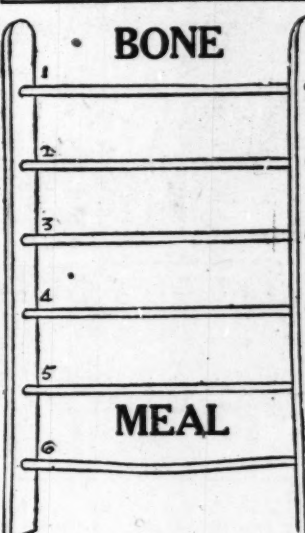

Phone any leading paint, hardware, drug, housefurnishing or department store and they will reserve an Old English Improved Electric Polisher for you. Insist on this improved machine.

A. B. See Printing Co. at Own Expense; Says Educational System Is All Wrong.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Alonso B. See, elevator builder, whose condemnation of women's colleges two years ago drew much adverse criticism, has now launched an attack on all American schools and systems of education in his own book, "Schools." He said the book would be issued at his own expense at a cost of $100,000.

THE LITTLE red school house turned out better trained youths than the colleges today. "See says, 'I attack all the schools, all the colleges. None of them is any good. None of them recognizes the ultimate factors of education. 'I've asked hundreds of boys what they learn at school. They tell me 'everything,' but none of them can explain what that means. Naturally they do get everything—a smattering of arithmetic and forestry, of biology and algebra—but when they finally leave school scarcely one of them can add up a column of figures.'"

GANG MURDER, SECOND IN WEEK, IS DISCOVERED IN MADISON COUNTY

Body of Man Shot to Death Taken From Horseshoe Lake—Another Was Found North of Alton.

PAIR SAID TO HAVE BEEN FROM DETROIT

St. Louis Police Get Information They Were Michigan Gunmen Implicated in Killings There.

The second gang murder in Madison County within a week was disclosed yesterday with the finding of the body of a young man on a brush pile in Elm Slough, an arm of Horseshoe Lake near Granite City, a vicinity where more than one gang murder victim has been found.

The victim, who was about 24 years old, had been shot from behind, the bullet emerging from the right eye. Circumstances indicated the body had been thrown into the lake, as it was found by a fisherman near the Collinsville-City highway. It had been in the water more than 24 hours.

The other murder was discovered a week ago yesterday, when the body of a man about 25 years old, with a bullet hole in the right temple, was found on a farm at the northern edge of Alton. Labels had been torn from the man's suit and hat, leaving as the only conspicuous identification marks tattooing on both forearms. No weapon was found near the body and the wound was not powdered.

Said to Have Been Detroiters.

St. Louis detectives and police officers from various towns in this vicinity have not been able to identify the bodies. But today, through underworld channels, word came to Police Headquarters that the bodies were those of men with police records in Detroit, where they had been involved in killings, and that they had been murdered on the East Side.

No one has been found in the neighborhood of Horseshoe Lake who heard a shot fired recently, and police believe the victim in the second murder was killed elsewhere and was thrown into the slough. A belt buckle inscribed "E. T. 27" and a shirt band marked "Max Friedman, Detroit" are clues to identity.

The man was 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighed 170 pounds. He had bushy brown hair, brown eyes, three small scars on his chin and one scar above the left eye. He had only one shoe, a tan oxford.

In his pockets were found only some matches and a key marked with the letter "H." The key was traced today to a shop at 415 Colville avenue, East St. Louis. H. Ranzel, proprietor of the shop, said he felt reasonably sure the key came from his shop, but he could not remember to whom it had been loaned.

The body was that of "Slim" Hennessey, notorious Detroit character, and the body found at Alton a week before was that of a man named Hennessey, name unknown, according to the understanding of information to police. The tipster said Hennessey was alleged to have killed at least two persons in Detroit.

It will be recalled that Mark Tilley, internationally sought confidence man, and a woman known as his wife, were found murdered in an automobile parked in a Detroit alley last month. The murders were linked by police with several previous killings, all attributed to disputes among gamblers and confidence men.

Hockett-Balke Murder Scene.

It was about five miles around Horseshoe Lake from the spot where the second body was found that searchers a year ago last February came upon the shallow graves of Deputy Constable Oliver Hockett and John Balke, a friend he had deputized to help him in a bootlegging raid. They were slain by bootleggers.

The activities of bootleggers in the Horseshoe Lake region have been under investigation by a grand jury at Quincy, which last Tuesday returned 110 indictments of minor officials of Madison County and others.
